Government of Mossadegh Overthrown, Royalists Say

SHARP WORDS OVER PEACE CONFERENCE LINEUP. While Russia's Andrei Vishinsky (extreme right) addresses the United Nations 60-member political committee, U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge (extreme left) and Britain's Selwyn Lloyd talk over other matters. Vishinsky proposed an 11-member group for the Korean peace conference, but Lodge later declared that only those nations with fighting troops in Korea should be represented—plus Russia if it sat on the Communist side.

U.N. Leaders Deny POW's Badly Treated

Say Condition of Men Sent Back to Reds Proves Charge False

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The U. S. Command today bluntly denied Communist charges that prisoners have been brutally treated. It told the Reds the physical condition of repatriated POWs proved the accusation was a "distortion of the truth."

The denial was made at a meeting of the POW Repatriation Commission and answered Communist charges leveled last Friday.

Another 75 Americans were liberated here Wednesday while two ships prepared to sail for home with men freed earlier by the Reds.

May Renew Demand

U. N. members of the commission reportedly planned to hand the Reds a strong note again demanding return of all Allied prisoners, but Col. L. C. Friedersdorff, chief Allied delegate, made no mention of it in talking with newsmen after the session. There were strong indications the U. N Command did not deliver the note, which authoritative spokesmen said earlier would be "hot."

Friedersdorff said the Red accusations of brutality were "intended to discredit the U. N. Command." The Reds had charged the Allies with a multitude of inhumane acts—from using toxic gas to food poisoning.

Friedersdorff also took a slap at Communist Red Cross workers, who reportedly have been acting as propaganda agents for the Reds.

"It is obvious from their actions that some of them are attempting to engage in activities exceeding the purely humanitarian mission with which they are charged," he declared. "We have no intention of permitting them to engage in such activities . . ."

Rhee Bids For Support

SHAH, QUEEN FLEE FROM IRAN. The Shah of Iran (right) and his dark-haired queen are shown after arrival in Rome on a flight into exile. Mohammed Reza Pahleva and Queen Soraya, said to be carrying priceless family jewels, arrived from Baghdad where the Iraq government had given them haven before the angry Iranian government intervened. Now the Shah and his queen face the possibility of returning to their own country as the Royalists are reported to have overthrown Premier Mossadegh.

Shah, Now in Rome, Urged To Return 'As Iran's Ruler

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A Royalist uprising in Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's army and police force flared in Tehran today and supporters of the deposed Shah of Iran claimed in radio broadcasts Mossadegh had been overthrown.

Pitched battles raged in the center of the city.

Although first determined efforts of police and troops loyal to Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi to capture the central police station were beaten off, a Tehran radio broadcast received in London said the Shah's supporters had overthrown Mossadegh and sent him fleeing for his life. Mobs had "torn to pieces" his foreign minister, Houssein Fatemi, the radio reported.

The broadcast called upon the Shah, who is in Rome, to return.

Hundreds of shots were fired over the heads of demonstrating mobs in Sepah Square.

Pro-Shah mobs burned at least eight buildings in the center of the city before the demonstrations crystallized into armed attacks by loyalist police and troops on key positions, such as the Foreign ministry.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, the 33-year-old ruler, and his 20-year-old queen, Soraya, arrived in Rome yesterday after fleeing their country on Sunday. A Saturday midnight attempt by the Shah and his palace guard to dismiss Mossadegh and substitute a military man, Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, had blown up and Mossadegh had instituted a counter-coup and arrested many of the Shah's followers.

The Tehran broadcast was the second heard in London. The first-accompanied by much confused shouting in the radio station, said Royalists controlled all government offices and the radio.

It said Zahedi had been installed as the new premier.

The radio gave no details of the extent of the revolt. Early dispatches from Tehran, however, told of extensive rioting in which Communists and Nationalists were the participants.

Upon hearing the report in Rome, the Shah said he was eager to return to his country. He already had declared he would not abdicate.

Mossadegh has kept a vice-like grip on Iran for more than two years. He has repeatedly crushed opposition to his regime, whether it has come from parliamentary rivals, religious leaders or the palace.

Once only did he give up the premiership. That was when Ahmed Qauam took over the government. But Qauam lasted only three days before rioting supporters of Mossadegh swept him out of office.

Still Has Lot of Support

The latest revolutionary bid may yet turn out to be shortlived because the Nationalist-minded Mossadegh still commands temendous support in the bazaars and in the slums of Iran's sprawling, teeming cities.

One other main factor seemed unsettled: Just how long will the Communist Tudeh Party hold its hand?

The Reds, in the view of most Western diplomats, are the best knit, most coherent political organization in the country. For months they have aligned themselves with Mossadegh in his row against the palace. It may be that they will act now—especially if it seems that any new regime may be ready to stamp out their party, which officially is illegal.

The reported insurrection came after months - long battling for power between the aged Mossadegh and the palace.

The Shah told newsmen in Rome today he had fled his homeland be-

Eight Persons Injured in 10 Area Accidents

Seven Hospitalized by Two Auto Crashes At 'Suicide Corner'

Eight persons were injured and taken to Marion City Hospital Tuesday and early today in a total of 10 traffic accidents investigated by city police and state highway patrolmen.

Seven persons were sent to City Hospital from two collisions as "Suicide Corner," the intersection of Routes 95 and 98, three and three-tenths miles east of Marion

First of the accidents occurred at 5:25 p.m. Tuesday when cars driven by Virginia McCardle, 26, of 206½ N Main St., westbound on Route 95, and Harold Adkins, 31, of Martin, Ky., southbound on Route 98, collided. Injured were four Martin, Ky., passengers in the Adkins car: Martin Conn, 43, fractured collar bone; his wife, Annie, 44, possible fractured ribs; Willie Samnons, 36, back injury; and his wife, Sophia, 34, back injury. The injured were taken to the hospital in a Gunder ambulance.

Heavy damage to both cars including the left rear fender, panel and wheel and right front wheel on the Adkins car and the right front side of the McCardle car was reported by state highway patrolmen who investigated the accident. Wreckers towed both cars from the scene.

Adkins was arrested by patrolmen for failure to obey a stop sign and posted bond for his ap-

President Flies East for Round Of Conferences

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower flew into New York today for a busy round of conferences and a speech at the dedication of a 32 million dollar federal housing project.

The President, interrupting his Western vacation for 24 hours, arrived at New York's LaGuardia Field aboard his plane, Columbine, at 7 a.m. He made the flight overnight from Denver, where he has been taking a summer rest.

All air traffic in and out of the huge airport was suspended for 10 minutes before the President's plane arrived.

Meets With Nixon

Eisenhower left the field to go directly to his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria towers for an appointment with Vice President Nixon and other newly appointed members of a government committee to help prevent employment discrimination in plants with federal contracts.

Later in the morning the President has appointments with J. Russel Sprague, Republican national committeeman from New York; William L. Pfeifer, GOP chairman of New York state; Harold Riegelman, GOP candidate for mayor of New York City; and Ogden Reid, president of the European edition of the New York Herald Tribune.

U. S. Secetary of Labor Martin Durkin is to lunch with Eisenhower.

Will Register for Election

The President's afternoon schedule takes him to the board of elections, where he will register for the November municipal elections, and then to the Baruch houses and playground, where he is to speak briefly.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, financier Bernard Baruch, and others also are included among speakers at the dedication of the 32 million dollar federal slum clearance proj-

U.N. Delegates Await Details Of Red Request

Lodge Blasts Vishinsky Plan for Korean Talks As 'Sleazy Maneuver'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Wary United Nations delegates waited for an explanation later today of the Soviet Union's Korean political conference proposals from Russia's Andrei Vishinsky. Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. called them a "sleazy maneuver."

Lodge declared the resolution Vishinsky put before the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee yesterday was designed to let the Communists dominate the peace parley. Other delegates reserved comment on the Russian proposal.

Vishinsky was expected to speak before the committee today.

The Soviet program called for the peace conference to be made up of 11 countries, including five "neutrals." This ran directly counter to American desires to limit the talks to nations whose troops fought in Korea.

Russian Proposals

Russia proposed these conference members:

1. Three U.N. members whose troops fought on the U.N. side—the United States, Britain and France—and South Korea;

2. The two Communist belligerents—North Korea and Communist China;

3. Two Communist "neutrals"—the Soviet Union and Poland;

4. Three other neutrals—India, Sweden and Burma (all three have recognized Red China).

The remainder of Vishinsky's proposal provided that "the decisions of the conference will be deemed to have been adopted if they have the consent of the parties which have signed the armistice agreement."

Which Are 'Parties'

This raised the questions of which nations Vishinsky considers "parties" signing the armistice. The document bears the signatures of only Gen. Mark Clark for the U.N. Command of 16 U.N. nations and South Korea, Gen. Peng Tehhuai, commander of the "Chinese People's Volunteers," and Gen. Nam Il of North Korea.

Western delegates pointed out that the Soviet conference lineup would include only four countries which fought under the U.N. flag

Like Husband, She Doesn't Answer

Mrs. Rothschild Refuses To Say if She Ever Spied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Edward Rothschild refused today to say whether she has ever spied for the Communists or helped her husband do so.

The husband, a bookbinder in the Government Printing Office (GPO), was suspended from his post yesterday after he declined to tell Senate investigators whether he was a Communist or had stolen secret documents sent to the GPO for printing.

As did her husband, the slender, dark-haired Mrs. Rothschild told the investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that to answer questions about espionage or Communist activity might tend to incriminate her.

To Open New Case

McCarthy announced at today's session that he plans to open public hearings some time in the future on another matter—the alleged leaking of secret military information to a Washington newspaper correspondent.

The Wisconsin senator said he had a "complete lack of cooperation" from the Pentagon in the case which, he said, involved leakage of information which "would be and, I have no doubt, was" of great value to the Russians.

McCarthy didn't name the correspondent or the person alleged to have given out the information. He did say the latter was a civilian employe who was permitted by the military to resign.

To Question Official

Sitting as a one-man subcommittee, McCarthy also planned to question an official of the printing office to find out why Rothschild was kept on the GPO payroll for years after charges of Communist activity were made against him.

Mrs. Mary Markward, former FBI undercover agent, identified Rothschild as a former Communist in testimony before the subcommittee Monday.

McCarthy also planned to question E. C. Mellor, secretary of a loyalty board which, the senator said, recommended only last month against dismissal of Rothschild.

"It is rather difficult at this time to say how many other GPO employes may be called," McCarthy said. "We are checking at least half a dozen more to see if the facts justify calling them."

MRS. MARY MARKWARD
She testified against Rothschild

McCarthy said previous testimony demonstrates a Communist cell was formed in the huge government printing plant as early as 1938. There also is evidence, he said, that secret documents have been stolen from the plant.

Refuses To Talk

Rothschild, told by McCarthy yesterday there is testimony he stole a code book and other secret data, refused to admit or deny it on the ground that his replies might tend to incriminate him.

McCarthy said Hipsley, the GPO personnel director, was acting chairman of a loyalty board which held hearings on Rothschild in 1949. Rothschild ultimately was cleared —although, McCarthy said, the FBI had 40 persons who could have testified the bookbinder engaged in Communist activities.

Bradley Sees Danger in U.S. Military Cuts

Fears Slashes May Grow Into 'Tempting And Dangerous Habit'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley says he is fearful lest this year's slash in the military budget grow into "a habit as tempting as, and moe dangerous than, the habit of dollar extravagance."

Bradley, five-star general who stepped out four days ago after two 2-year terms as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said of the Eisenhower administration's decision to cut more than five billion dollars from the Defense Department budget:

"At first glance this looked to me like coasting before you reach the top of the hill. Personally, I would be inclined to keep the pressure on — from a security standpoint — until we reach a higher level of readiness and security."

First Public Criticism

These statements, in an article written for the Saturday Evening Post and made public last night, were Bradley's first direct criticism of the new defense budget. During hearings while Congress was considering the matter, he limited himself generally to statements that the nation's top military planners saw no lessening of the threat to this country.

Badley, 60, is going into private industry as board chairman of Bulova Research and Development Laboratories, Inc. His article, entitled "A Soldier's Farewell," was in the main a defense of military planning during the past four years.

He spoke out against Secretary of Defense Wilson's announced plans to narrow the nation's military production base in the interest of economy and efficiency — a program which Pentagon sources say is being put into effect more slowly, and to lesser degree, than had been initially indicated.

Points Out Danger

"By concentrating our orders among the most efficient producers," Bradley wrote, "we may be able to produce at less cost. That's fine—if we don't have a general war.

"The narrower base of production cannot be expanded as rapidly in case of all-out mobilization, and is extremely dangerous because it is more vulnerable to attack. In any narrowing of our production base, this is a point to be weighed most carefully."

President Eisenhower, who shook up the entire Joint Chiefs of Staff, has defended his and Wilson's defense budget as one which will give the nation greater armed strength at less cost than that proposed in January by former President Truman.

New Fortifications Going Up

U.S. Troops Digging In All Along Korean Front

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—The young Marine straightened up from the newly dug trench, massaged the small of his back and mopped sweat off his face.

"We've been digging, digging, ever since the armistice," said Pfc. Talmage W. Blackwell of Raleigh, Miss.

"But don't get me wrong. I'm not kicking. I'd rather do something like this than have men getting killed like before the armistice.'

Dig In All Along Front

All across the 150-mile front, Allied soldiers were swinging picks and stabbing spades into Korea's red clay hills. They were building new earthen fortifications south of the demilitarized zone.

Others engaged in dangerous mine removal work. Scores of small parties went over ground using the most modern of detectors but even so risking accident and death.

Some men in the forward areas were in salvage operations, bringing back equipment for cleaning, repair and further use.

Engineers were repairing roads and bridges.

Building Tent City

North of Munsan, 3,000 Army engineers were hard at work on a huge tent city for North Korean and Chinese prisoners of war who have said they do not want to be sent back behind the "Bamboo Curtain." The tent city will house them while their fate is decided.

U.S. Casualties Of Korean War Total 142,277

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today announced a preliminary battle casualty total of 142,277 Americans killed, wounded and missing for the whole Korean War.

The tentative total was given in what the Pentagon said would be the last regular weekly summary of battle casualties. It showed a net decrease of 17 from last week reflecting the addition of 19 killed, a decrease of 23 missing and the transfer of 19 wounded to a non-battle classification.

Auditing of casualty figures will continue for months, possibly years, before a final figure can be reached to tell the full story of the cost of the Korean conflict in terms of dead, wounded and missing.

The revision process will inevitably raise the tentative death toll of 25,604, as confirmation is obtained on American deaths in enemy prison camps. The number of missing will decrease gradually as the death toll rises. The missing figure will eventually reach a theoretical zero when, after all the checks and investigations are completed, men remaining on the missing list will be declared dead.

Danish Vessel Burns; Crew and Passenger Safe

BOSTON (AP)—The 260-foot Danish vessel Else Basse broke out in flames 15 miles off Cape Anguille, Nfld., last night but its crew of 24 and one woman passenger abandoned ship safely and were picked up five hours later by a rescue craft.

The Coast Guard at Boston said the survivors were taken aboard the British steamer Corner Brook, which was in the general vicinity, and taken to Corner Brook, Nfld.

New Earth Tremors Hit Greek Islands

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Athens Observatory reported today that fresh earth tremors shook Greece's quake-devastated Ionian Islands. At least three of the shocks were listed as "moderately strong."

Workers continued to uncover bodies of victims killed in last week's catastrophe. Some of the remains pulled from the debris on the three islands of Kefallinia, Ithaca and Zakinthos had been charred by fire.

The observatory said it had recorded 11 more tremors in the island area off the west coast of Greece in the 12 hours ending at 7:30 a. m., today (1:30 a. m., EST).

Holds Reins in War Matters

U.S. Has Say in Affairs Of Chinese Nationalists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is supplying substantial modern military equipment to Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa but has reserved for itself a powerful voice over any possible major operations by them against Red China.

Officials who reported this said the American government is especially concerned about the possibility of attacks on the Communist mainland which could be expected to provoke Red retaliation and thereby involve the U. S. 7th Fleet.

Information available here indicated that an agreement with the government of Chiang Kai-shek to assure the United States a voice in major strategic decisions did not affect the kind of harassing operations which Chiang's forces have long been carrying on against Communists units on islands near the mainland.

Under some conditions, it was clear that the U. S. right to share in decisions on operations could give this country a virtual veto. Such a veto presumably would be exercised on projected Nationalist military operations which would involve American forces in a manner or to a degree inconsistent with American interests.

Officials declined, however, to say that it was in fact a right of veto which was provided in the agreement.

The arrangement apparently grows out of President Eisenhower's action last Februay in revoking an order to the 7th Fleet

Higher Interest on GI Loans Hasn't Increased Home Buying

WASHINGTON (AP) — The higher interest allowed since last May on GI loans hasn't helped veterans buy more homes, figures released today by the Veterans Administration show.

At the time, the raise from 4 to 4½ per cent interest was hailed by many money lenders and government officials as one which would give veterans a better chance to get the government-insured loans. They said lenders weren't anxious to put up money for veterans' home loans because the return was so small.

Since then, the number of GI home loan applications appoved by the VA hasn't increased. These loan application approvals are used by the VA as one barometer indicating the availability of money for GI loans.

Figures for July show that the number of applications approved actualy dropped slightly from April, the month immediately before the interest increase.

In April, 26,000 applications were approved; in July, only 25,453. May saw about 24,000 approved and June about 26,000.

T. B. King, director of the VA's Loan Guaranty Service, said the primary cause has been the demand for money for other types of investments which bring in higher interest rates. He added in an interview:

"I expect to see the supply of money for GI loans pick up within the next 60 to 90 days. The great majority of our offices around the country think there will be an increase. So far, the judgment of these offices has been good."

Indian Youth Makes Heap Smart Essayist

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — A Cherokee Indian lad who entered an essay contest based upon two pictures — one of a dilapidated house and the other of a washed-out field — won with these words:

"Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big tepee. Plow hills. Water wash. Wind blow. Soil, grass all gone. House rots down. No hog. No corn. No hay. No potatoes No cow. No pony. Squaw gone with papoose.

"Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Cow eat grass. Indian drink health-giving milk. Buffalo eat grass. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make tepee. Moccasins too. Indian no make terrace. No build dam. No hunt job. No hitchhike. No shoot pig. Great Spirit makes water. Also sunshine. Indian no waste anything. Indian no go on relief. White man heap crazy."

50 Men Hunt Bank Robber

FBI Agents, Police Seek Bandit's Trail

FLORAL PARK, N. Y. (AP)—Fifty men have been turned loose on the trail of a slick young bang robber who yesterday made off with $191,280, possibly the biggest cash take in all U. S. bank holdups.

A special briefing was held last night for 25 FBI agents and a like number of Nassau County detectives assigned to track down the gunman who looted the Franklin National Bank branch here.

From what was made public, clues were slim.

Records showed the only bank robbery larger than this one occured in September, 1930, at Lincoln, Neb. Seven men with machine guns took $2,268,700, but only $25,000 was in cash.

Morrow Nine Faces Shelby in Schedule Wind-Up at Iberia

The Morrow County Junior American Legion baseball team will wind up its home game schedule Sunday, Aug. 23, when they meet Shelby at Iberia.

Morrow split a double header Sunday with Utica winning its 16th game while losing the 13th. Utica stopped them 14-6 in the first game but Morrow came back to blank them in the second, 14-0.

Utica's Bill Peterson held Morrow batters in check with 9 strikeouts but his team committed five errors while three Morrow pitchers handed out eight walks and hit three batters with pitched balls. Wayne Nauman hit a home run and a double and Howard Miller doubled for extra base hits for Morrow. Arck and Boyer hit a triple and a double for the visitors.

Walter Chambers limited Utica to five hits in the second game to give his team plenty of room in the nightcap. Chambers struck out four and walked one. A triple by Evans and two doubles by Boyer were the visitors extra base hits while Jones, Maidens and Rinehart hit doubles for Morrow.

Last of Three Cave Explorers Rescued

PIERRE ST. MARTIN, France (AP)—Wire cables today hauled to safety the remaining two of three cave explorers who went deeper into the earth than man ever has before—2,395 feet.

The speleologists (cave explorers) hauled out today were Robert Levi and Norbert Casteret. Their colleague, Dr. Andre Mairey, was pulled up last night from the St. Martin Cave here in the Pyrenees Mountains of southwestern France.

The cave reputedly is the earth's greatest land fissure. One man was killed in a similar exploit last year when the cable snapped as he was being brought to the surface.

The three were members of an expedition seeking to determine possibility of an underground hydroelectric plant.

Tonight at the tent meeting at Garfield Park sponsored by the Maranatha Bible Church, Rev. Charles Gray of Dennison, O., guest preacher, will speak on "The Vision Man Needs." His subjects for the rest of the week will be "When God Shakes Heaven and Earth," Thursday night, and "The Work of the Holy Spirit" Friday night. He will close his two weeks of preaching Sunday night, then will be succeeded another two weeks by Rev. Mark L. Mitchell of Youngstown. Mrs. Gray is heard each night in musical numbers, instrumental and vocal.

Saturday night, a young people's service will be held at the tent with numbers by local musicians and a religious moving picture, "Contrary Winds."

Growing interest and attendance at the services is reported by the Maranatha pastor, Rev. Earl L. Holliday. Music for the meetings is in charge of Robert Stanger, a Moody Bible Institute man. Children's meetings are being conducted each day at 2:30 by Mrs. Gray.

The Best There Is

It has been nine years since the Dumbarton Oaks conference prepared the groundwork for the United Nations.

Despite the angry disappointment of those who expected too much and the bitterness of those who expected nothing at all, the United Nations is more firmly entrenched than some of its member governments.

The need it fills is demonstrated by the opening of another General Assembly session. The first order of business is the Korean peace conference.

In 1953, this will be only one of hundreds of questions which will be discussed by United Nations delegates. Many of the arguments will be unpopular, even odious, to critics who profess to believe all questions could be resolved by direct action, instead of debate and compromise.

But these same critics would be among the first to break and run if they encountered some of the direct action they profess to admire so much. In that event, they would prefer to talk things out and hope for settlements short of direct action.

That is the merit of the United Nations. It is a place for talking things out and hoping for settlement short of direct action—war and more war.

The United Nations has not maintained the peace, which was its stated purpose. Neither has it proved of much account as an agency for waging war.

It has provided a place for talking things out in hope of settlement. In the present state of international relations, that may be all it could be expected to do.

Dollar Wheat Was in Sight

Before the wheat referendum last week, commodity traders had a vision of dollar wheat—the surest sign of agricultural distress.

When the referendum produced better than an 80 per cent vote for cutting wheat acreage one-fifth in return for price support at 90 per cent of parity, the vision vanished.

Wheat will continue to sell for upwards of $2 a bushel. Wheat farmers will cut down their acreage about one-fifth from its total this year, though it is to be expected they will follow the usual rule of eliminating only the least productive fifth.

It will be the first time since 1942 this has been done, though not the first time it should have been done. The threat of a wheat-price collapse unless wheat farmers curtailed production was magnified by a huge carryover from previous years, plus a carryover from a bumper crop this year.

In industry, when inventories grow top-heavy and unwieldy, production is adjusted by tacit consent. The automobile industry is adjusting its production in the light unwieldy inventories of new cars and used cars. This is easy to do in auto manufacturing because the decision can be made by a handful of executives.

But there are two million farmers who grow wheat, and upward of half of them grow wheat in large quantities. The only way they can get together on anything is under the auspices of their government, because they are scattered among nearly 40 states. Hence the wheat referendum.

Acreage allotments for crops being produced in surplus amounts and price supports to stabilize markets are not a perfect answer to the problem of putting an economic floor under agriculture.

But the answer is so much better than what used to happen when wheat prices sagged to a dollar a bushel and the entire national economy sagged correspondingly that no one is thinking of doing it that way again.

One Step From Revolution

The struggle to restore the authority of the French government which has been challenged by both private and public strikes could be the beginning of the end for the French republic.

It also could be the beginning of a nationwide revulsivon against revolution in the guise of labor unionism. Such revulsions are produced periodically by the excesses of politicians who gain control of unions, then use them in efforts to overthrow the state.

In 1910, Aristedes Briand, then premier of France, broke a general strikes by serving notice that he would conscript all strikers and have them court-martialed if they disobeyed official orders to go back to work.

France was saved.

In 1926, socialists of the British Labor party were hopeful of taking over the government with a general strike. But they had underestimated the strength of public reaction. Unionism sustained a serious setback.

When a railroad strike in the United States threatened to have the effect of paralyzing the country, President Truman threatened to draft strikers into the armed services. His request for authority to do this was blocked in the Senate by the late Sen. Taft. But public reaction was so violent that the Labor-Management Act curtailing the power of the union bosses was passed the following year.

A strike against the government is only one step from revolution. The French, knowing how close they have been to disaster, may now try to save themselves belatedly from the Moscow puppets who would cheerfully use French unionists to destroy French liberty.

Double-Talk Diplomacy

By David Lawrence

Appeasement of Russia First Goal of U.N.

Who is on which "side" in the United Nations assembly as it prepared to select the member countries of the so-called "political conference" that is supposed to settle the Korean problem?

India says she is "neutral" and is willing to be helpful to "both sides."

What does "neutral" mean in the U.N. when the American people have been told that 140,000 American casualties were suffered in behalf of "the U.N. command"?

The United States says it is willing to have Russia participate if the "other side" is agreeable to the proposal. In this sense, the "other side" is Red China and the puppet government of North Korea, which is in turn a creature of Soviet Russia.

British diplomats at the same time tell American reporters that the U.N. must be careful not to offend the Russians by implying that maybe the Soviet Union belongs on the "other side" which means that somebody may possibly suspect the Moscow regime was really a "belligerent" in the Korean War or aided a belligerent.

One wonders why all this regamarole is necessary when Vishinsky frankly told the Soviet Nations Assembly a few months ago that, of course, the Soviet Union right along had been sending munitions to the Red Chinese and the North Koreans.

The plain fact of the matter is that the United Nations — an institution with an aura of respectability far from deserved if it is judged by its recent conduct — condones treason within its own ranks and is afraid to call treason by its right name lest if offend the "other side," the Soviet government.

To the average American who isn't encumbered by too much knowledge of the intrigues and double talk of diplomacy, the fact remains that war broke out in June 1950, and it was formally, officially, publicly, and specifically described by the U.N. as an aggression by the Communists of North Korea.

Then in February 1951, after the Red Chinese had intervened in the war, the same U.N. declared the government of Red China an aggressor.

The U.N. also had publicly by resolution called on all member nations to lend assistance to the U.N. action and to refrain from aiding the aggressors. Who, therefore, could be "neutral" and still be faithful to the U.N. objectives —to repel aggression?

So the first order of business in the U.N. is not to avoid or evade the issue about letting Soviet Russia participate but to try the Soviet regime on charges of treason and to expel such a regime from the U.N. as a menace to the future peace of the world.

The U.N., however, today is dominated by some pussy-foot diplomats from Europe who still think that the way to get peace is to appease and bootlick the Russians.

In due time the fallacy of that course will become evident, but only after a lot of time has been wasted which might have been spent in ostracizing the Soviet regime and applying the moral force of the world toward the ultimate goal of liberating the Russian people from their gangster government.

The Russian people could be told that a free government would be a welcome member of the U.N.

Double talk, however, will be the order of the day for some time to come as so-called diplomacy twists and turns and tries to keep from offending the present Soviet government.

Double talk still persists also in other phases of the Far Eastern situation.

The other day, for instance, it became known that a unit of the British Navy — an aircraft carrier — interfered with the blockade, imposed by the Chinese Nationalist government against Red China, by rescuing some merchant ships from the hands of the Nationalist Navy.

Since Nationalist China is still a member of the U.N. and trying to carry out its obligations, why should the British Navy interfere with military operations undertaken by a U.N. member against a non-member which has been declared an aggressor?

The American government is about to lend or lease 25 destroyers to the Nationalist Navy. Congress authorized it by law just signed by the President.

Does this mean the British Navy will seize those destroyers if they attempt to keep strategic goods from reaching Red China?

Recently in the British Parliament assurances were given that the British Navy would be used to protect Ceylon, which has made a barter deal to supply rubber—a strategic commodity — to Red China. On which side is Great Britain herself?

The British diplomats often boast about their experience in world affairs, but they never have made a bigger miscalculation than in the asumption conveyed in their present policies that it is more important to have Red China in the U.N. than the United States.

Republican Leader Knowland has announced that the day that Red China goes in, a resolution will be sought in Congress to have the United States step out of the U.N.

Judging by the temper of Congress in both political parties, such a resolution will pass overwhelmingly.

Then the Communist Chinese, the Communist Russians and the British appeasers, if the British people keep them in office, can run the U.N. to their hearts' content.

Fanfare for Franz

By TRUMAN TWILL

It comes as no surprise that Franz von Papen has written his memoirs for sale in the United States. It will not even come as a surprise if Americans buy the old German's account of his squirmings through the sewers of diplomacy.

The same Americans who have paid to listen to lectures by Germans who have killed their sons will be tempted to enrich this surviving diplomat who helped to set the stage for Germany's two blood-drenched adventures in this century. Von Papen, himself, was no killer, just a finger man.

He was a professional accomplice in murder, one of a numerous band of diplomatic smoothies who have scuttled in and out of the plots and betrayals which have kept most of mankind at coffinside during the 20th century. One thing you could say for the guy: Find out what he was doing and you wouldn't be far from the next murder.

He was for sale to the highest bidder. He could betray his church his friends, his fellow politicians, his host, his countrymen, his government, his party or his vested interest in civilization as easily as his betters could change their socks.

During World War I he betrayed the United States by bossing sabotage in Canada from his post of diplomatic privilege in Washington.

He betrayed Von Hindenburg when the time came. He betrayed the Germans who were too conscientious and too proud to turn loose the mad dog Hitler. He would have betrayed Hitler, had he been given the chance.

As it was, when he was called to account for his service to Hitler's regime, he had the gall to declare he did not know what that Nazi paranoiac was doing when he lunged at the breast of cililization with a dagger in his fist.

Von Papen is now 74. The review of his book says it is filled with glib apologies for what he was doing throughout his long and unremorseful career. He was always able to rationalize the latest screams in the night—the latest corpse-filled trenches—the latest aching in human hearts.

He was always for sale on the best terms he could make. He was a man without scruples—a fair sample of all the creatures who have gnawed and whimpered their way into places they will be forbidden to occupy if integrity ever becomes the test of public service.

Every soldier who fell in World War I and World War II, every maimed body, every ruined prospect is a kind of monument to the Franz Von Papens who sell out humankind, then are smart enough to becloud the record so they will be turned loose.

Von Papen is loose. He has outlived them all. He has written a book about it, in which he is depicted as the hero, the man who was still on top when the rest were six feet under.

The book costs $6.50. You could have had Von Papen in person for not much more than that when he was at the peak of his lifelong career.

True delicacy, as true generosity, is more wounded by an act of offence from itself, than to itself. — Lord Greville.

'Sick Man' of Europe

By Stephen Coulter

PARIS

Even the children's merry-go-round in the Champs Elysees have stopped running because of the French strike.

The street is full of overflowing ash cans—uncollected. It is like preparing for a siege or a revolution.

And who knows if revolution is not on the way? In this hot, sticky, quiet Paris, there is the closeness of something dramatic.

Even when 4,000,000 strikers brought the country to a standstill in 1947 there was not this tenseness.

It might be a good thing if one could count on a revolution. It would at least show that France still had some spirit.

But the country looks too droop-necked. France, the "sick man of Europe," actually seems to be near the last gasp—and fewer and fewer sympathetic friends are willing to rally to the sick bed.

All the sentimental gush about France from people, who imagine that they are showing off their civilized qualities by posturing about their love and knowledge of her, no longer hides the plain fact —France is in eclipse.

Look at this fertile, well-favored land — a land with immense natural advantages.

Where are the signs of enterprise, order, craftsmanship, individual will power, civic conciousness, the will to work, the readiness for sacrifice in the common good? Even common sense?

You would expect these qualities in full from a great power—yet in France they are the exception, not the rule.

A sea-diving apparatus that goes down 5,000 feet?

Splendid, but food output is so poor that France must import, and less bread grain is produced per acre than in Luxembourg.

Shorter skirts by Monsieur Dior?

Charming, but not one single home guard recruited—or likely to be. Perfumes by Madame Fifi?

Wonderful, only prices are so high they do not sell even in America.

Who works French mines? Foreigners. Do the French compete in markets abroad? Ask any businessman.

The unhappy fact is that the law in France is nothing sacred.

Too many Frenchmen deliberately set out to defraud the tax authorities; snigger at scurrilous attacks on the physical embodiment of their native land—the president of the republic; are unmoved by appeals to discipline; and are ready cynically to believe the worst of all public officials and to behave accordingly.

It often seems that the average Frenchman lives as if his native country were jungle where the only way to insure survival is an attitude of "me first" or "every man for himself."

Oh, the ineptness of the idea of the delightful and charming "individualism" of the French. It has been made the excuse for so much.

At this moment it is showing in its true colors—and they look strongly like the colors of selfishness, weakness, personal greed, disorder and corruption.

It is notorious that powerful business groups are able to exert pressure on parliament to get totally unwarranted subsidies voted.

Rich, reputable firms employ retired tax inspectors solely for the purpose of finding tax-dodging loopholes in the law—and smile about it.

Vote - seeking deputies leave farmers practically tax-free (and vote them subsidies on the side) while whole populations of rapacious middle-men reap fortunes.

Governments have apparently so little control—or the will to exert it—that people like those on strike now get it in the neck each time there is talk of economy; yet the public authorities never seem to attack the racketeers who roll down the Champs Elysees in their glittering cars and spend $14 for lunch.

Black markets still flourish in France—in almost everything.

You want something done quickly and at a price? You agree to pay "without an invoice," meaning that the state is defrauded of its several taxes.

A play picturing French justices as rotten and corrupt is a box-office smash hit. Protests only cause smiles.

All the fault of the politicians? Well, are elected politicans not a reasonable reflection of the national spirit?

It seems that the French politicians, who can haggle for five weeks over giving their country a government in time of national crisis, are no worse than their fellow citizens.

Gen. De Gaulle, an obstinate man, tried for years to make something of either the politicians or their fellow citizess to rally them to some national consciousness. In the end he went blind in one eye and retired—defeated.

Whenever there is talk of tightening the national belt, ordinary people nod sagely— then revolt with cries of "Not me, not me."

The Communists are trying to grasp the leadership of the present strike wave. They are unlikely to succeed, because the average French worker has not even the energy to be a full-time Communist.

And certainly this is not the last of the French strikes.

In a general war, France and the French people will be a nice well-meaning cipher.

The sick man of Europe will not get well again until he decides to make an effort on his own behalf.

A Team of Scientists

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

Since 1931, when they honeymooned to Lafayette, Ind., to take over their new jobs at Purdue University, Alice and Robert Withrow have worked together pretty much as a team in their scientific pursuits.

Mostly concerned with the effect of light on the flowering and reproduction of plants, they both served during the war years as consultant to the Air Force on the growing of plants without soil. Their successful experiments in Purdue's radiation and plant growth project proved useful to the Air Force in its efforts to grow perishable green vegetables on gravelly and sandy bases in the Pacific.

Today, at the Smithsonian Institution, where since 1948, Dr. Withrow has been in charge of the Division of Radiation and Organisms, both are continuing their joint search to determine to what extent light and chemicals affect plant life.

"It would be a most useful tool to agriculturists if ways could be found to control the flowering development and growth of plants," Robert Withrow told me while piloting me through a series of small, pitch-black laboratories in the Institution's basement. In each room were cabinets automatically controlled as to light, heat and humidity, and in each cabinet were feeding plants, mostly black Valentine beans, in various stages of growing. Dr. Withrow opened opened the cabinets cautiously.

"A flash of light," he warned me, "can ruin an experiment."

Dr. Withrow got his doctorate in botany at the University of Chicago and a master's degree at the University of Cincinnati, where he met his wife, who was taking post graduate work in botany. In 1942, while they were still at Purdue, Dr. Withrow took over operation of the University's cyclotron, or atom-smasher, in the physics department. Alice Withrow took over his job in charge of the radiation and plant growth project.

The Withrows, a gentle, pleasant couple, and their daughter, Anna, 19, a college sophomore whose bent is more toward domestic interests, live in a house in suburban Bethesda, Md., and like to spend their vacation camping near the water, where they can go boating and swimming.

Marion County History Brevities

Eber Baker, founder of Marion, arrived at his new home here on March 4, 1826. It was Sunday, the day previous to the inauguration of James Monroe for his second term as President. He immediately took possession of a cabin owned by men by the name of Chandler and Hanford, where he afterward kept the first tavern in the village.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Peace, Wearing Purple Trunks

Brace and reinforce the structural features of the United Nations buildings! Man the ramparts! Put none but the eagle-eyed on guard tonight! The U.N. preliminary sessions to discuss a peaceful settlement in Korea are opening.

With Russia participating along its usual lines, this can be the first peace session calling for a daily issue of wound stripes.

The diplomats showed up with an extra supply of antibiotics, bandages and other war paraphernalia, the cry being, "I am fit and ready for the fight. Bring on the peace talks!"

The Reds can make this a rerun of all past U.N. scripts, using the customary double talk, abusing the peoples of the free world and giving the orthodox picture of the Bear That Walks Like a Monkey Wrench.

Peace has become a fighting word. If we were an editor we would cover the meetings through the best fight reporters, with a second platoon made up of football and ice-hockey experts. (We hear a lot of U.N. delegates have been in training in Stillman's Gym.)

The U.N. feature bout will be between John Foster Dulles and Vishinsky, with Vishinsky having the advantage since he can shout louder and doesn't have to stick to facts.

The General Assembly is opening its Korean peace talks in an atmosphere so quiet and peaceful you can hear a hydrogen-bomb threat drop.

Malenkov has seen that the sessions get off in the Kremlin mood of a peaceful atmosphere.

The civilized world (so-called) has reached a stage where any meeting for better understandings features the cry, "I've got the stuff to blow you up, TOO."

-:-

In the great U.N. skyscraper the dove of peace comes in on a wing and a threat. Russia chooses a time of peace talks for an announcement that it has the H-bomb.

This establishes "Ya wanna make something out of it?" as the slogan of the conference. You just can't top Russia in jamming up a mood for world accord and brotherly love.

If it really has the H-Bomb it might have picked a better time to boast about it. But it might not have found any other period so appropriate for keeping a peace session in a FIGHTING MOOD!

It is like opening a neighborhood discussion for better fire protection with an announcement that everybody has developed atomic mice and matches.

There is no great doubt that Russia has the H-Bomb. Thanks to our general inertia in the presence of traitors, the secret has been kicking around for the last few years and the boys who gave away the blueprints are free after shorter terms than you get for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, taking "short" lobsters or shooting quail out of season.

But whether Malenkov has the bomb packaged and ready for delivery or not, he has made sure the PEACE talks will OPEN ON A NOTE OF VIOLENCE.

Our prediction is that before the meeting has lasted four hours there won't be a kindly expression in the hall. The job will be to confine the flames to the immediate premises and see that the diplomats get "whole blood" during the arguments.

One thing is evident: friend and foe are angrier now than when they were during the war. If they put the U.N. session on video it will kill the Marciano-La Starza fight.

Mossadegh has postponed prohibition in Iran (Persia) for a year . . . This defers the terrible spectacle of Omar Khayyam squinting through a peekhole in an oaken door and asking, "Have you got a membership card?

Elmer Twitchell calls the AFL action against Joe Ryan the biggest upset in top-ruling circles since the dethronement of King Farouk. It certainly violated the waterfront sign "Use No Hooks."

Reports Communists Tried To Cover Up Deaths

Noel Believes 3,000 GI's Died in Red Camps

(Editor's note: This is the last story by AP photographer Frank Noel on his 32 months as a Communist prisoner in North Korea. Noel is receiving medical treatment in Tokyo before returning to the United States.)

By FRANK NOEL
As Told to Olen Clements

TOKYO (AP)—After I received my camera in January 1952, the Chinese let me take pictures in four of the six camps where non-Korean war prisoners were held.

In my wandering around the camps I got a pretty fair idea of how many men were in each and I estimated there were between 4,000 and 5,000 men, mostly Americans, in the hands of the Reds. Another 3,000 died in the camps and are buried in the hills around Pyoktong and Chonchong, where most of the camps were located. That would account for up to 8,000 of the 13,000 non-Korean troops estimated to be missing today.

The Chinese did not mark these camps for aerial identification during the first year of the war. When they did mark them they used the Chinese characters that I was told meant "peace" rather than a prisoner camp.

One day about three months ago I saw three wagon loads of TNT—about 60 boxes of it to the wagon—dug up and taken out of Camp 5 where 1,200 Africans, British Filipinos, Puerto Ricans, Turks, French and Greek POWs were held. If a bomb had struck that camp accidentally the whole bunch would have been killed.

The Reds tried to cover up the great number of deaths among the POW's—sometimes as many as 48 bodies in one day were seen being moved out of the camp—by trying to force Allied doctors to say the men died of syphilis contracted before they were captured. None of the doctors would go for it and a good many of them did time in the hole as a result.

We were held right near the border of Manchuria and a Chinese leader told me one day if the Allies ever tried to liberate the prisoners the Chinese would take those they wanted to keep across the border into China. Perhaps they have done so now.

When I was captured in November of 1950 along with Marines, Army and British troops at Koto, North Korea, they walked us to Camp 5—about 700 miles over the winding route they made us take. Camp 5 then held officers and enlisted men. That was about April, 1951.

In the summer they hereded about 600 men and officers into a Korean theater and made the rest listen to loudspeakers outside while a high Chinese gave a bitter harangue against the "capitalistic warmongers."

He told the enlisted men they should have turned their guns on their officers, who were "the real warmongers in America." The lecture didn't go over very well with either the enlisted men or officers.

The Communists tried every way in the world to indoctrinate the prisoners. They succeeded in some cases, but I would say the percentage was very small.

They used race against race and nationality against nationality in an effort to stir up animosity among the prisoners. On that score I was real proud to note 99 per cent of our men, regardless of race or creed, stood pat. They knew what was going on and didn't buy it.

Later on the Reds opened up Camp 2 and moved all the officers up there. They insisted that I was a Marine captain and moved me there with the officers despite my protests that I was a civilian war correspondent.

In trying to make me admit I was a Marine captain they made me stand at attention for hours at a time out in the raw cold. Three times they made me stand with my nose pressed against a bright light for hours on end in an effort to break me down or force me to write something favorable to them. I guess that is what is wrong with my eyes now.

Once, while they had me in the hole, they tried to force me to write letters down to my correspondent friends at Panmunjom, Munsan and Seoul telling them they were being misled by the United Nations propaganda. They also asked me to write to the New York Times, Chicago Tribune, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, Baltimore Sun, Kansas City Star and the Los Angeles Times, and tell them "the peoples peace movement" was right and just. I refused. They even forged some of our names to letters and published them. I know of several such cases.

Actually I've talked with some of the Chinese soldiers from time to time and they have told me that half or more of the so-called volunteers are anti-Communist and were conscripted.

One day in early 1951 some of the Turks, who were pretty staunch Allied troops, heard that the New York Herald Tribune's reporter, Maggie Higgins, had been captured. They told me about it. I had known Maggie in Berlin and again in Korea. None of us liked the idea of an American woman being in the hands of the Reds so we got together a few little things we could spare for her and about $80 in American greenbacks and gave it to the Turks to get to her. We knew the Chinese were crazy for greenbacks and figured that small amount of money might help her out.

The Turks took the money and about four months later returned everything to all the donors because they had learned through the grapevine that Miss Higgins had not been captured.

I sure liked those Turks. They were good soldiers and good men. The Chinese never were able to do much with them. The Turks just shrugged their shoulders and pretended they didn't understand.

They even brought in a Turkish-speaking Russian who had once worked in the Russian embassy at Ankara. He didn't have any luck either and may be in a Russian hole somewhere today for having failed.

The Reds told us one day that the United States government was holding up 67,000 letters to POWs. I think it was the other way around.

I know people wrote me and thanked me for making pictures of their prisoner kin. Americans do things like that. I got about 10 such letters in prison camp but I'll bet there were many more.

I had intended to write letters to those 10 or 12 people and thank them but the Communists took those letters away from me when I was freed on Aug. 9. Now I don't have the names or addresses. I was only permitted to write two letters a month while I was in prison and of course they went to my wife.

They took away from me every address I had in writing when I left.

ACCIDENT VICTIM. Bonnie Buehler, 25, airlines stewardess, was critically injured at Lake Arrowhead, Calif., when she fell overboard from a speedboat and was drawn into its propeller. The boat was driven by Ray Sargeant, music concern owner, and was towing Geary Steffen, ex-husband of actress Jane Powell, on water skis. Steffen dived off his skis and rescued the girl. Her left arm was sheared off at the shoulder and doctors said they probably will amputate her left leg.

CIO Heads Gather For Political Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO Political Action Committee fires its first shots today in a campaign to elect a Congress favorable to organized labor in 1954.

Some of the biggest guns in the CIO were scheduled to wheel into position as the committee, political arm of the labor organization which claims six million members, assembled for the first time since the presidential election last fall.

An estimated 150 CIO officials were expected to review the past seven months to see how organized labor has made out under the first Republican administration since their organization came into being 17 years ago.

Nancy Ann Gilmore Becomes Bride of Toledo Serviceman

The garden at Central Christian Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Nancy Ann Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Gilmore of 187 S. Prospect St. and Kenneth Leslie Bowers of Toledo, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Virgil Curl, organist, and Ted Disbennett, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony read at 2:30 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. Ashley Booth.

The improvised altar was in front of the large flower bed centering the garden. Large baskets of white gladioli were on either side of an arbor intertwined with white flowers and greenery and white satin bows reserved places for the families.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle. The long fitted sleeves were accented by an off-the-shoulder tuck-draped fichu and snug-fitted waistline. Sprays of lily-of-the-valley on the graduated triple-tiered skirt were repeated at the sweetheart neckline and her finger-tip veil of nylon tulle was held with a headpiece of ruffled nylon tulle trimmed with pearl stephanotis. Her bridal bouquet held white glamellias and lilies-of-the-valley interspersed with ivy and she wore a strand of pearls belonging to a great-aunt.

Mrs. William Jones, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Green and Miss Dorothy Hollensen of Marion and Miss Joyce Burkholder of Archbold. Mrs. Jones wore a gown of aqua nylon net over taffeta with a short jacket of matching taffeta. Pleated net trimmed the bodice of the basque waist and the full skirt was of nylon net. Her small matching hat was of nylon net. The bridesmaids' gowns and hats were styled like those worn by the matron of honor and were in an orchid shade. All the attendants carried bouquets of miniature gladioli and carnations in pastel shades and tied with aqua ribbon.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Robert Bowers of Toledo. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowers of Toledo. Ushers were William Jones, Lawrence Walborn and Jerry Shuler all of Toledo.

The reception was in the church parlors where bouquets of gladioli in long low containers were on the mantels and bookcases. The table, holding a tiered wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom and surrounded with lilies-of-the-valley, had a background of white gladioli and completing the decorations were candles in crystal holders. Assisting were Miss Jane Leffler of Marion, Miss Joan Keiser of Toledo, Mrs. Lawrence Sager, Mrs. Scott Stewart, Mrs. Oscar Cross, Mrs. Clara Barnhart and Mrs. Thomas Berry.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan the bride was wearing a yellow linen suit with brown accessories and a corsage of brown orchid glamellias.

The bride will complete her nurses' training at the Toledo Hospital and the bridegroom will return to duty in the U. S. Navy where he is a radarman on the USS George E. Davis, Destroyer Escort.

Special Loans Available for Area Farmers

Special livestock loans, authorized by recent legislation, are now available to farmers in this locality, it was announced this week by H. V. Anderson, supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration for Morrow, Delaware, Marion and Franklin Counties, with headquarters at Mt. Gilead.

Purpose of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's new loans is to provide temporary credit to livestock producers to continue operations, after suffering economic difficulties caused by the drop in cattle prices.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has given top responsibility for the new program to R. B. McLeaish, national administrator of the Farmers Home Administration. FHA state and county offices will disburse the funds, collect the loans, and service the accounts.

In Ohio, a livestock loan committee appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture, considers applications. This committee is composed of C. A. Gehrig, FHA state director; Clayton Stackhouse, state chairman PMA ,and W. B. Wood, state director of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Established producers of cattle, including dairy cattle, sheep, and goats may borrow if they cannot get needed credit from customary sources, if they have good records of operations, and if the credit would give them a reasonable chance to succeed.

Under the program, which expires in July, 1955, loans bear 5 percent interest and are repayable over periods up to three years.

Inquiries may be made, or applications filed, at the Farmers Home Administration office serving the area where the farm is located. Headquarters for Morrow, Delaware, Franklin and Marion Counties are in the courthouse at Mt. Gilead. Mr. Anderson holds office hours there each Monday from 8 a.m. to noon.

Office hours are held in Marion at the PMA office at 194 S. State St., the third Wednesday of each month from 10 a.m. to noon.

Youth Shot in Chest May Never Walk Again, Father Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—Charles Sager, 15, of Warren, was on the Cleveland Clinic "danger" list today with a bullet in his left chest. Police at Niles said a theater manager had shot him.

His father said the slug entered the youth's back under the right shoulder blade and is lodged in his left chest. It nicked the lad's spine, the father continued, "and I'm afraid he will never walk again."

Steve Hreno of Niles, operator of a drive-in theater there, has admitted firing the shot, police said, and has been bound over to the grand jury charged with shooting with intent to wound. He told police he fired only to frighten the youth.

Hreno said the youth and two other threw stones at his screen. He fired, he said, when they ran away from him.

Million Men Idle as French Strike Goes On

PARIS (AP)—France's most serious postwar strike entered its second week today with a million workers still out, railroads and communications still paralyzed and Pemier Joseph Laniel's government tottering.

Negotiations between the government and non-Communist unions broke down Monday and there was no prospect of a resumption in sight.

Socialist party leader Guy Mollet told Laniel that any savings he might realize through his touted government financial reforms—which touched off the walkouts—already have been surpassed by the huge losses to the French economy from the strike.

Nobody contradicted Mollet.

It was expected Parliament would be called back from its vacation for a special session next week. Laniel may be thrown out of office in the bitter squable certain to develop.

The walkout began as a protest against government plans to cut public payrolls and up retirement ages. Now the unions are pressing for all kinds of general wage and bonus rises as well.

Laniel's financial plans, which he said also would be aimed later at the tax-evading rich, appeared definitely wrecked.

U.S. Officials Keeping Close Watch on Iran

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department kept close watch on turbulent Iran today, keenly aware that great issues are at stake in the struggle for power between Premier Mossadegh and Royalist supporters.

Little concrete information was available here at an early hour other than the Tehran radio broadcast which said followers of the Shah had taken over the government and that Mossadegh had been replaced by Gen. Fazollah Zahedi. For the time being the broadcast account was unconfirmed by any other information.

Authorities here were initially somewhat surprised by the Tehran broadcast. Since Royalists had failed to seize the government from Mossadegh four days ago when the Shah fled the country, it had been assumed that their ability to act effectively was probably crippled for the time.

United States Ambassador Loy Henderson saw Mossadegh yesterday and gained the impression that Mossadegh was firmly in the saddle despite the great ferment among the population.

If the United States, Britain and other Western countries had a choice they undoubtedly would prefer to see the Shah's people rather than Mossadegh in power. Officially and diplomatically, however, their attitude so far has been one of hands-off neutrality.

Iran

cause "I wanted to avoid bloodshed. I did not want the people to suffer for me."

The Shah claimed "99 per cent of the Iranian population is behind me. . . Anyone not a Communist is faithful to me and the monarchy."

The Tehran broadcasts were picked up here by minitors of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

All normal outside communications channels with Tehran were cut.

The British Foreign Office rushed the radio reports to Prime Minister Churchill at his country home in Kent, but said it had no confirmation of the coup.

Monitors here said a welter of confused shouting accompanied the reading of the first communique from Tehran.

The shouting apparently was a row over who should read the announcement.

One voice said: "Let me read it."

Another: "No—I want to read it."

Then came a voice of reason: "It doesn't matter who reads it as long as it gets read."

The Royalist broadcast built up a picture of complete victory, with Mossadegh fleeing for his life.

The reference to Fatemi being torn to pieces was not elaborated upon. But presumably this meant the foreign minister had fallen into the hands of a Royalist mob.

There also was no elaboration of where and how Mossadegh escaped.

British officials still were waiting to see if pro-Mossadegh mobs would take to the streets. They thought the issue might be settled in clashes in squares of the capital.

Governor Accused Of 'Strike-Busting'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Officials of the CIO Communications Workers, facing suits in federal and county courts, accused Gov. George N. Craig today of helping Indiana Bell Telephone Co. in a "union-busting and strike-busting" campaign.

Mrs. Mae Mann, Indiana CWA director, said in a statement that the governor was fostering a "police state." She said he should have "given more consideration" to a solution achieved at South Bend in which the union agreed to limit pickets and the company agreed to get rid of out-of-town workers.

The union repeatedly has accused Indiana Bell of bringing in "strike breakers" in the nearly month-long strike against Indiana Bell's 82 exchanges.

Eagles' Quartet Takes National Title

'Buckeye Four' Defends Top Rating for 3rd Straight Year

The "Buckeye Four" quartet from Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles here successfully defended its national crown Saturday night at Indianapolis.

Composed of Arthur A. Ward, baritone, Robert F. Heimlich, bass, William D. Cowles, lead tenor, and Hubert W. Hoch, first tenor, the quartet won top rating for the third consecutive year among Eagles quartets.

The local group won the honor in 1951 at Rochester, N. Y., and in 1952, at Philadelphia, Pa. The third win for the local quartet won it a large trophy which remains here permanently. To be presented in the near future, it will be placed in the trophy case in the lobby of the Aerie Home.

Runner-up to the local group was the Leominister Aerie No. 477 quartet from Leominister, Mass.

The Marion champions and several other Eagle quartets at the convention entertained patients in Veteran's T. B. Hospital at Indianapolis.

The Buckeye Aerie band led the parade of champions through the Grand Aerie Convention Hall in the Claypool Hotel and the Grand Auxiliary Convention Hall on the Indiana Roof on Saturday. It presented concerts both Friday and Saturday nights in the lobby of the Claypool Hotel and at the War Memorial Grounds.

Ohio won many honors at the Grand Conventions. A class A ritualistic team from Cincinnati Aerie No. 142 won top honors in its class and a Lorain team from Lorain Aerie No. 343 won first in Class C competition. Toledo Auxiliary No. 197 degree and drill team took first auxiliary honors in Class A and Mt. Pleasant Auxiliary No. 2208 ritual team from Cleveland copped Class C honors.

The delegation of Eagles from Buckeye Aerie No. 337 returned from the Grand Convention in Indianapolis on Sunday night. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Faurot of Morral and Luther Mitchel and Lee Collins of Marion.

Formosa

to prevent Chinese Nationalist attacks on the mainland.

Subsequently, officials said last night, the United States stepped up its pogram of military aid ot the Nationalists on Formosa.

From the point of view of putting the Communists on the defensive and possibly causing them to tie up forces in the area opposite Formosa, this fitted in with American plans.

However, the President had left the 7th Fleet with the responsibility of protecting Formosa against assault by the Communists. This meant that as the Nationalist forces became stronger, they might undertake a big operation which would involve the U. S. fleet in military action with Chinese Communist forces. That, in turn, could have an incalculable effect on the whole international situation.

As a result of such considerations, informants said, the United States got an agreement with the Nationalist government that it would be informed and consulted well in advance of any such operation and that it would have a voice in the decision.

THE EXCEPTION

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — The usual run of burglar takes "everything but the kitchen sink." But when one entered the home of Mrs. Betty Stillman here, that's what he carried away . . . the kitchen sink.

'OLD MAN OF THE EAST.' Full of spirit despite all the time he spent in a Communist POW camp, Cpl. Glenn L. fering in North Korea by advancing with faith and loyalty."

The largest group of Allied soldiers yet turned back in one day —456—rode into Panmunjom today in open trucks.

And 130 Americans liberated earlier anxiously awaited the journey home aboard the hospital ship Haven, scheduled to leave Inchon harbor for Japan Thursday. Only sick and wounded are aboard.

Another 400 able-bodied American repatriates start the voyage home Saturday. They will make the two-week trip from Inchon to San Francisco on the troopship Marine Adder.

450 Due Thursday

The Communists said 450 Allied prisoners would be repatriated from North Korea Thusday.

The group will include 60 Americans, 90 British and 300 South Koreans.

In addition to the 75 Americans freed Wednesday, the Communists returned 75 British and 306 South Koreans, raising the total in 15 days to 6,083 of the 12,763 Allied soldiers the Reds said they held.

Moving back to life under Communist rule were 602 shouting flagwaving North Koreans, the smallest group of Reds yet delivered by the U.N. Command.

Transfer of Reds from prison camps off South Korea to the mainland has been hampered by typhoon weather and the U.N. Command said it would be unable to return more prisoners until Saturday, when it will hand over the usual 2,400.

Both Nazis, Reds, "Rotten"

One soldier, Pfc. Alexander Kreizer, 30, Danbury, Conn., was held in a Nazi concentration camp during World War II. Kreizer, born in Czechoslovakia, was asked by newsmen to compare German and Communist camps.

"Both were rotten," he replied. "The Chinese tried to wear a mask as a friend. The Nazis didn't try to hid their feelings. They called us dogs."

A lull in the Assembly's business was expected after Vishinsky speaks while delegates study his statement, confer with one another and consult their governments at home. A scheduled meeting this morning was canceled because no delegates wanted to speak before the Russian explained his resolution.

Eisenhower Talk To Be Broadcast Over Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—The ceremonies at the dedication of Baruch houses and playground, including a brief speech by President Eisenhower, will be carried by several radio stations and networks.

There will be no live televising.

A direct broadcast starting at 2 p.m. (EST) will be offered by the ABC network and in New York by station WNYC.

Partial re-broadcasts are scheduled over NBC and CBS networks at 9:35 p.m. EST.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP) — Jimmy Keel, 9, wasn't keen about the crew haircut he was getting at his mother's request. But when a customer in the barber shop said he looked like a "peeled onion," that was the last straw. Jimmy threw aside the barber's towel, jumped out of the chair and ran out the door—with his hair only partly cut.

Troops

It has been mostly work and little play for U. N. troops since the armistice was signed July 27 but an easier life lies ahead. The U. S. 8th Army is planning a big move in its recreation and study programs.

Already there has been a marked increase in the number of men flown out daily from Seoul for five day' rest and relaxation in Japan. Sunday, more than 1,000 "R and R" troops flew to Japan.

New Front Looks Different

From the air, the new Allied front looks quite different from the old one with its connected trenches. The new line is more a series of "islands" of dug-in positions on key hills.

The old line looks like a jagged scar across the ridgetops. Bunkers have been dismantled. Sandbag barricades are gone.

The halt in the shooting did not mean the end of soldiering. Day and night, security patrols move just ahead of the new Allied lines, always on the alert.

Dogs have been trained to sniff out leaks in natural gas pipelines in the United States.

Bishop McConnell Dies at Lucasville On 82nd Birthday

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held Friday in nearby Lucasville for the Rev. Dr. Francis J. McConnell, former Methodist bishop and advocate of freedom in religion and thought.

He died yesterday on his 82nd birthday at his Lucasville home.

The Rev. Dr. McConnell was once president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ, later known as the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States.

He was born at Trinway, Muskingum County.

He served as bishop in Denver, Pittsburgh and New York, was in charge of Methodist missions in Mexico and also served in India. For a time he was president of Depauw University.

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University in 1894, he married a Delaware girl, Miss Eva H. Thomas, on March 11, 1897.

She survives along with a son and a daughter.

A legend of the Nigerian city of Ife says that an ancient queen made the people work so hard they resolved to have only men rulers thereafter.

LEGAL NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given, as required by Section 614-20 of the General Code of Ohio, that Ohio Edison Company, a public utility, has filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an application for authority to amend certain of its filed schedules fixing rates and charges for electric service so as to provide uniform rates throughout the territory served by the Company for industrial primary service and industrial transmission service and to substitute for those fuel adjustment clauses now on file with the Public Utilities Commission a single, uniform fuel adjustment clause to be applicable, as appropriate, throughout the territory served by the Company.

The proposed rates for industrial primary service and industrial transmission service would replace some twenty-three rates now in effect. The changes in rates, while effecting some increases and some decreases in charges would result in a net increase in charges for industrial primary service and industrial transmission service.

The proposed single uniform fuel adjustment clause would replace some nineteen different fuel adjustment clauses now in effect and will effect a net decrease in revenue to the Company.

Territory in which Ohio Edison Company operates and to be affected by the proposed changes is located in the counties of:

Cuyahoga	Mahoning	Tuscarawas
Delaware	Marion	Union

The proposed changes, if approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, would be effected by the filing with the Commission by Ohio Edison Company of:

2. A proposed rate for Industrial Transmission Service, temporarily designated as Original Sheet No. B.

U.S. Food Program Stings Russians

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's free food for the East Germans—flour, lard, beans and dried milk—continues to sting the Russians like a mustard plaster.

The 15 million dollars which President Eisenhower ordered spent for it no doubt pays for itself in goodwill for this county among both the free West Germans and the East Germans living under Communist control.

As an American act of friendship, it may be effective in persuading the West Germans to reelect this fall Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who has been working on the side of the United States.

And the fact that the East Germans have streamed into West Berlin for the food, at risk to themselves, is notice to everyone that there is a hunger problem in Soviet territory and that the Russians can't lick it.

After the East German workers' riots in June, Eisenhower put the Russians on the spot by asking them to let 15 million dollars' worth of American food go through the curtain to the East Germans.

If Moscow accepted, it would be public acknowledgement of the hunger problem. Refusal would make Communist treatment of the East Germans, which brought on the riots, look even worse. Moscow refused.

Eisenhower decided to send the food into West Germany where Adenauer's government could handle distribution of it for the East Gemans, or those who dared to come for it. Many dared.

Over 2,600,000 seven-pound packages have been handed out and the program is far from finished. Distribution began in late July.

It's been estimated the 15 millions will buy 50,000 tons of food. Eisenhower ordered Harold Stassen's Mutual Security Agency, since renamed the Foreign Operations Administration (FOA), to get the food.

The money comes out of a special FOA fund. FOA told the agriculture Department to act as its agent in buying the food. Then FOA set up a schedule to ship about 5,000 tons a week.

The first shipment of 4,500 tons began leaving this country in American freighters July 17. It consisted of 2,000 tons of flour, 1,000 tons of lard, 500 tons of dried milk, and 1,000 tons of beans.

Further shipments will contain the same items, with the possible addition of canned meat. The flour, lard and dried milk are being bought from commercial firms. The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) supplies the beans.

As part of its price-support program, the government will step in and buy a farmer's beans if open market prices fall below a certain figure.

The CCC does this buying. As a result, it has warehouses in Michigan loaded with beans. The government draws on these warehouses for the beans shipped to Germany.

Once the food gets to West Germany, Adenauer's government hauls it to West Berlin. As an example of what the food means: 1,000 tons of lard is two million one-pound containers.

The food packages are distributed from relief stations set up in public schools in West Berlin. There's been a recent lag in the program because the school season starts soon.

New centers will be set up. The program is expected to get going at full speed again by Aug. 27. An official of the State Department describes the rest of the story:

East Berliners can get into West Berlin by bus, elevated trains, subways or by walking—if the East German police don't stop them. The police have been doing a lot of checking and turning food seekers back.

Still, plenty get through, on one excuse or another, or in one way or another. When they get the food, how do they get it back nome? the official said the East Germans have shown amazing cleverness.

He mentioned briefcases in particlar. The Germans, he said, are great briefcase carriers. Some food can be concealed that way, some in the clothing, some wrapped in East German newspapers.

Some of those caught returning with the American food have had a rough time.

Monticello, Thomas Jefferson's home, has 35 rooms in three floors and a basement.

Calvary WSWS Hears Returned Missionary

One new member was received when the WSWS of Calvary EUB Church met Thursday night in the church parish house. Nine calls were reported made and boxes of clothing and coffee were reported sent to Japan and Germany, along with a CARE package to Jerusalem. An announcement was made of the fall institute for the Bucyrus and Marion groups to be held Sept. 25 at Calvary Church here.

Guest speaker for the program was a returned missionary from China, Mrs. Hartman. Group singing was followed by prayer by Mrs. Caroline Messenger. Refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

Line in His Story Tips Off Character

Noel Called Real News Photographer

By HELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—In reading one of Frank Noel's stories of life in a Chinese prison camp the other day, I was struck by a particular line. He had written—

"I went down to Hamhung to get some film, but I was in a hurry to get back to the front because the best pictures were there."

Frank, or "Pappy" as we called him, is a news photographer. The Chinese grabbed him in that bleak and anxious winter of 1950 when the dam went bust in Korea. Now, 32 months and several lifetimes later, he has been sprung. His memoirs make fascinating reading.

As you may know, there is an enternal debate in this ink-stained trade of ours over the question: Are photographers people?

Personally, I think they are, although there are many points that have to be conceded to the opposite side of the argument. The important fact is, I suppose, that a news photographer sees the world exclusively through that square wire finder on his camera.

And this, for him, is the only true and valid world. He lives there. Few things that happen outside are likely to merit his serious attention.

Moreover, he is a harassed man. A reporter can come along, after the story has happened, and pick up the details from someone else who saw it. But a photographer has to be there with his hand on the trigger at the precise split second—or else.

Hence, you can understand when "Pappy" wrote that he was in a hurry to get back, where the pictures were.

This was up around the Changjin Reservoir, and Pappy had been tagging along with the Marines for some six weeks or more. It is easy for a war correspondent, news or photos, to fall in love with a Marine unit in the field, and Pappy apparently had a bad case.

Once, when we were able to reach him on the telephone, we asked if he didn't want to come out of the show an mountains for a little relief.

"Nope," he said. And that was all. He hung up.

Writing wasn't his job, but he used to scribble a few hundred words in pencil on the back of a photo-mailer—a large manila envelope—to tell little anecdotes of life with the Marines. More often than not, we found news and color in these that we hadn't seen anywhere else.

Then came the terrible days when the roof fell in around the center of the line.

The Marines obviously were in a bad spot, with a collapsed flank and the Chinese pouring toward the rear.

Pappy could have come out then, before the roads were completely closed. But the last time he was on the telephone, he said he was going to stay. "I feel better up with the kids," he said. He was all of 45 himself at that time.

Then, for a week, we heard no more.

One morning in early December the news came . . . a group of 18 Marines broke out . . . they had seen Pappy captured in an ambush.

For a long moment, nobody spoke

Everybody had his own thoughts. Bill Moore, another AP man, never did come back. We could hope that Pappy, at least, was a prisoner. Two of us had been in prison camps in the other war. A third narrowly missed it, having been shot down over the ocean. Fortunately, he was a photographer, name of Bill Achatz, so he survived nicely, floating around for five days in a rubber boat.

We talked over all the angles and possibilities, the way you do when you are trying to find some good in a bad situation. Finally, somebody said.

"Well, don't forget Pappy is a photographer. He'll stay alive just to keep from missing a picture."

That's the way they are, those characters.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

Newspapermen are trained to ask when, where, why, how. That was what we were taught when I as young and editors insisted upon it. Today too many reporters have become genteel and ask their questions politely.

SOKOLSKY

When it is discovered that a fellow such as Alger Hiss is way up in the State Department, it seems suddenly to have become boorish to ask how he got there; who appointed him; who promoted him.

When our atom bomb is stolen, petitions circulate among the cultured folks of our day to get clemency for the Rosenbergs and if one is so bold as to ask who screened the various spies in that particular apparatus, the cry of McCarthyism is heard in the land.

IF ONE asks how a person like Marzani got into the OSS, which is now the CIA, it is lese majeste even to inquire as to who appointed Marzani and why.

If a professor refuses to answer whether he was or is now a spy, the questioner is attacked as an enemy of intellectuals and of academic freedom.

Only recently I was told that one should not be so persistently one-sided, that it is unpopular to go after the Communists, fellow-travelers and tupes (dopes is a better word).

One should be broadminded, I am told. Yet, the atom bomb was stolen and the hydrogen bomb was stolen and only Malenkov knows what else his agents stole in this country. We need to know how it was done.

The Jenner committee of the Senate has been working on the pattern of infiltration, and while they have shown how spies and Communists, once inside the government, promote each other, there is as yet no evidence to show how these people got into the government, who opened the doors for them, who protected their records against unfavorable screening.

THOSE WHO are studying the problem most closely admit that the surface has barely been scratched.

This, however, is clear: every senator and every representative who has moved into the battle against spies and Communits has been smeared, attacked and often destroyed. This goes back as far as Martin Dies.

It is a curious phenomenon in American life that those who fight Communism and espionage are attacked, while the Communists and spies are retained, promoted and secreted until they are brought before a congressional committee.

The "Richmond (Virginia) News-Leader" makes the interesting point of this smearing:

"Public attention has been diverted down a thousand irrelevant and largely insignificant alleyways; and in the process, our perspective has become badly distorted. You hear it said, in all solemn seriousness, that 'MCarthyism is a greater danger than Communism.' You hear it said that academic freedom is being wiped out, that press freedom is critically endangered. You hear that 'innocent people have been smeared' by a 'bunch of character assassins.' To listen to the babble of the bleeding-hearts, you would think we never had it so bad."

-:-

"The babble is obscuring the very purpose of thses investigations, which is to determine the how of Communist infiltration into our government, so that having found its source we can root it out . . ."

This is the whole story. Unless we discover the how, we must be defeated, not only in our work for security but in our efforts toward peace.

Our own espionage agency, the CIA, is so new that it is immature in its approach to its tasks. This can be said without adverse criticism of the agency or its personnel. Too often Americans believe that if an agency is created, it ought to be able to work effectively with mature judgment the very next morning.

ACTUALLY, such an agency as the CIA could take a generation to develop. It took the FBI about that long. Scotland Yard has been developing since 1829.

Spies are easy to hire; the understanding of the product of their espionage is hard to come by.

The Russian MVD, successor to the NKVD and the Cheka, is also the successor to the Okhrana which has been in existence for centuries.

When to this is added the propaganda genius and the capacity for infiltration of the Communists, who have been at it since 1848, we face a veritable menace.

It is a tough fight that can only be won by tough methods.

Inside Labor

By J. Edgar Hoover

Harry J. Anslinger, director of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics is substituting, as guest columnist, today, for Victor Riesel who is enroute from Europe.

A historic and long-awaited victory for the United States government in its anti-narcotic campaign was at last achieved in June when a protocol to limit the production of opium to the medical needs of the world was agreed upon in New York by the 34 countries represented at the United Nations Opium Conference.

This marks the most notable advance made thus far in the international war on narcotics, and is the reemdy which has been actively proposed by American delegates to international drug conference since our government first assumed leadership in this important field at Shanghai back in 1909.

THE MAIN purpose of the protocol is to reduce overproduction of opium from 2,000 to 500 tons, which represents the medical needs of the world.

This should eliminate most of the vast overproduction in many countries which feeds the illicit traffic and has served as important sources of supply for smuggling to the United States. The protocol will come into force when 25 countries have ratified it.

The total medical and scientific requirements, as well as the amounts needed by each separate country are known, and the quantities of narcotic drugs manufactured legitimately have been stabilized at the level of the world medical and scientific requirements under the 1931 limitation convention.

Before the 1931 convention came into full force, at least 100 tons of narcotic drugs passed into the illicit traffic from authorized factories in a five-year period and seizures on our shores aggregated as much as 3½ tons in a single year.

HOWEVER, the overproduction of opium and the opportunities it offers for the clandestine manufacture of drugs directly for the illicit traffic constitute a danger to the progress which has been made through the application of the conventions in force. The protocol will close these loopholes.

In countries like China, Burma, Thailand and Mexico, where opium is grown illegally, those governments must take firm measures to cope with this illegal production. Communist China is the chief offender.

Communist China is systematically fostering and exploiting the production of opium and heroin for the illicit market to the point where it represents an open scandal.

In many sections of China opium produced for the illicit market now provides one of the principal sources of revenue for the communists.

The shocking impact of this rapidly expanding traffic can be visualized by the fact that its known volume in the past 12 months reached at least the value of 70 million American dollars.

Last year we presented to the U.N. Narcotic Commission facts which proved beyond doubt that Communists were smuggling heroin from China to Japan. We warned then that wholesale smuggling of opium and heroin from Communist China was an increasing menace to many countries.

AS SOON as the Communists occupied Shensi and Manchuria, they encouraged the sale of opium to finance their vast military organization.

Opium and heroin reach all parts of South Korea from north of the 38th parallel.

Cheng Lao San, Director of the Opium "Prohibition" Bureau for three districts around Shanghai, is probably the biggest dealer in the Communist regime. He is known as the "King of Opium."

The China Syndicate and Company in late 1952 stated they could furnish "tons and tons" of opium and any amount of heroin from stockpiles in Canton.

In one heroin factory alone in western China the capacity is 300 pounds per day and all of this is for illicit export.

Chen Kun Yuan, a Chinese living in Tokyo, has amassed millions in two years trafficking in heroin. He is boss of the Chinese underground in Japan.

THERE CAN be little doubt of the true purposes of Communist China in the organized sale of narcotics. It serves the triple purpose of obtaining United States dollars, extending narcotic addiction as a means of sabotage, and financing Communist political activities.

Cause for even more serious concern lies in the fact that in Peiping in December 1952 behind closed doors a conference was held by Red China's Central regime, from which the information leaked out that it was decided to further expand heroin sales activities, particularly in Japan, Southeast Asian countries, and in the United States.

JEAN LAGET, leader of a huge narcotic ring, was arrested in New York recently along with three other top echelon illicit narcotic traffickers, after a prolonged investigation by federal narcotic agents during which over 8 pounds of heroin and 2 pounds of opium were purchased.

Laget's organization had direct connections with clandestine heroin laboratories in France, and with seamen smugglers who carried the contraband to the United States. Laget is wanted in France for murder.

In accordance with a resolution adopted by the U.N. Nartocit Commission in 1952, we are reporting to the United Nations 109 seamen who have been convicted of smuggling narcotics to the United States.

The secretary general will send these lists to the governments of all countries with the reccommendation that they revoke certificates and licenses currently held by seamen so convicted.

Job for Bouncer

By Inez Robb

Uncle Sam give Dick Haymes the bum's rush?

Don't make me and 159,999,999 other Americans laugh: God love him, but the old gentleman of the record couldn't bounce a ruber ball with money.

INEZ ROBB

If the United States government in all its majesty after years of effort can't deport an ex-criminal and no-good like Serge Rubinstein, the all-time draft dodger, and if it can't rid itself of Harry Bridges, the red-ringed West Coast labor leader, how can it expect to purge itself of a simple crooner or actor?

-:-

HAYMES HASN'T been convicted of anything yet, except maybe being a little foolish around the edges. And we owe him the ancient Anglo-Saxon benefit of belief in his innocence until proved guilty.

But Rubinstein is an ex-con, and Bridges has been in and out of the courts for years. If Uncle Sam can't heave Rubinstein after 12 or 15 years of trying, I don't see how he can deport anyone.

Both these prize specimens are still in the United States after years of governmental toil and heaven alone knows how many millions of dollars spent in deportation efforts.

For all the public knows, the duo may have matched the government dollar for dollar. Both have had extensive pokes in which to dip and both have employed the kind of legal talent that doesn't work for peanuts unless solid gold.

RUBINSTEIN has battened and fattened on this country. He has kited his residence in the U.S.A. into a multi-million-dollar fortune. It has enabled him to hire, like Bridges, the legal talent that produces one obstacle or delay after another to prevent deportation.

I shouldn't be the least bit surprised some decades hence to be gathered to my fathers as I bat out on the old mill yet one more protest at the presence of Rubinstein in this country.

If Dick Haymes or his chere amie, Rita Hayworth, can rassle up the money for legal talent, the crooner and or actor will be in the U.S.A. until he dies of senility.

IN RECENT years Rubinstein has been publicly crying that exile from the U.S.A. would be unthinkable and the fate worse than death for him.

These crocodile tears leave me remarkably unmoved. It occurred to me some time ago, in June, 1950, to be exact, that Rubinstein could quite easily prove his undying affection for the United States by enlisting and fighting on her behalf in the Korean war.

There was the simplest and most direct way for Rubinstein to purge himself of the sniveling behavior for which all decent Americans hold him in contempt.

If he had thrown himself on the mercy of the armed forces, said he had repented of his inexorable behavior in World War II, and wished to make amends to the country to which he owes so much, he might have found a unit willing to accept him.

INDEED, the Army, under the circumstances, might have found it extremely interesting to allow Rubinstein to mess up his pretty manicure in the dust and heat, the mud and freezing cold of Korea.

All he is willing to do for the U.S.A. is fight like a tiger to stay here.

The government can't even clap Rubinstein in Ellis Island, which it has been laboring to do for the better part of a year.

So we come back to Haymes and Uncle Sam's threat to deport him.

My honest advice to fellow citizens is not to hold their collective breath beyond the first 10 years while Uncle maneuvers to place on Haymes the boom he hasn't yet been able to lower on the big boys, Rubinstein and Bridges.

The Bargain Hunter

Charles O'Malley helps run a perfectly wonderful bookstore at 377 Fourth Ave., New York City. It is a cozy second-story shop lined with thousands of books, most of which have long since been out of print. If the book you're seeking isn't on the shelves — and it probably is —O'Malley will locate one for you somewhere.

J. CROSBY

I don't know where he finds them but it's almost impossible to stick O'Malley with a title he can't run to earth. If you asked him for the Book of Kell, he'd likely have it in the shop for you in a couple of days. A while ago, the O'Malley Book Store was visited by a large TV tycoon, which is to say a man who has a sponsor in his pocket. This character, who shall be nameless, had literary larceny in mind.

"HE SOFTENED US," Mr. O'Malley relates, "by talking of the art of TV for awhile. He then broke down — almost sobbing— and admitted he wanted books in English text, published before 1897 (drawing the copyright line as tightly as possible); must be of American origin (since, as you know, Great Britain's copyright law is much kinder to the author and his family): insisted on horror, ghost, or very funny stories, though adventure, love or even family scenes would do. How's your gamut these days?

"We aided the crime by digging out three books he could filch from. He was disappointed in the first — before he had read any of it — as it contained but 12 stories. We pointed out that W. Shakespeare had much less choice; he begot Hamlet from one Danish saga. This man wanted a good five-cent saga.

"Well, we were temporarily good friends again. Until he saw that the books were priced. His disappointment embraced the three books and ourselves. He said he thought he could find his type of material on outside bargain 10 and 25 cent tables. We are on the second floor and long ago decided against outside stands since even Adler couldn't elevate browsers that high.

"NEXT HE WANTED to rent the books for one day on a circulating library basis. When we were thinking of getting outselves some medical care, this sport— his name is one of the biggest in the TV picture—took down the authors' names and the book titles, told us he was going to browse around bargain tables for them, and said he'd be back if he couldn't find them.

"Evidently his browsing hasn't unearthed any stories to milk. He has called up three times to see whether we are having any post-Fourth of July sales on these special books. Said he wouldn't be able to call any more, as he was leaving for California and his writing partner."

This is the most striking story of literary close - fistedness to come my direction. But there is lots of evidence that the writer is getting a poor deal in TV. The way TV burns up material, the writer is going to be the most important guy in the business. Yet, he is widely neglected. Practically everyone and his sister thinks he can write a TV play but he hasn't the faintest idea where to send it once he writes it. I haven't the foggiest idea either.

THE AMATEURS — who are tomorrow's professionals — have a terrible time busting into this exclusive little circle. Once they do bust in, they may well live to wish they'd stayed home in White Bait, Mont. There are little writing cliques that get all the work from, say, one dramatic program. Outsiders, even recognized and experienced writers, have no chance of breaking in.

And that, dear children, is why you get so many shoddy reworkings of the same old tired formulas, so many drama shows that make you think you're seeing the same shows you saw the night before. Honest competition among the writers would end a lot of that and we'd all be a lot happier.

Murder, Manslaughter On Increase in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A crime report shows New York City had more murder and manslaughter cases during the first six months this year than in the same period of 1952.

For the first half of 1953, police handled 160 murders, an increase of 22.1 per cent, reported Commissioner George P. Monaghan yesteday. He blamed a 42.5 per cent rise in manslaughter—from 200 to 285 killings—on automobile deaths.

His report showed decreases of 7.2 per cent in roberies, 1.1 per cent in narcotic felonies and 2.9 per cent in rape.

TRUCK TOO MUCH FOR BRIDGE. A bridge over the Raisin River near Clinton, Mich., gave way under the weight of this truck and double trailer loaded with 8,800 gallons of gasoline. The driver, Joseph Horgus, was uninjured. Police said Horgus had found his original route under repair and was detouring over country roads. Authorities blocked off the area, fearing an explosion from the gasoline which poured out of holes in the trailers into the river.

One POW Who Stayed Married Chinese Girl

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—One American who decided to stay with the Communists married a Chinese girl during his captivity, a returning soldier said today.

Sgt. Roy Story, 31, of Jonesboro, Tenn., said the American left his company in Camp 1 about four months ago.

"We heard he moved into Chongsong to live with her," he said, "and then planned to go into China when the war was over."

Story did not know how the prisoner met the girl but speculated that "she had been a worker in the camp and met him after he turned progressive."

In 1930 in the United States about one out of seven employed persons living on farms had non-farm jobs, but in 1940 the figure was one in five and in 1949 one out of three.

Evacuation of City Seen as Best Policy In Event of Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Civil Defense Administration is reported leaning toward the idea a city had best be evacuated of its inhabitants if there is warning of a boming raid.

But officials said yesterday no decision had been reached, while discussions as to evacuation rather than taking shelter are still going on.

Administrator Val Peterson was quoted as saying the agency's thinking tends more towards evacuation. A spokesman said that had been the trend even before Russia's hint of hydrogen bomb progress.

Returned Texan Says He'll Re-enlist in Army

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—A lean Texan freed by the Communists today said his Red captors urged him to quit the Army when he returned home.

But Sgt. Wesley D. Little of Borger said, "I'm going to take my furlough, then I'm going to reenlist and if they want me to come back here I'll fight the bastards again."

Bowling Green Grange Hears Contest Report

A report was given on the cookie contest held at a Pomona Grange meeting recently when Bowling Green Grange met Friday, John Owens presided.

The Home Economics committee reported Mrs. Marjorie Greenwood won first in the county and would represent Bowling Green in the state contest. Owens announced inspection of the Grange Aug. 28. A short program by the lecturer, Mrs. Ola Esley, included a piano duet by Mrs. Lodena Murphy and her daughter, Rose Ann, readings by Mrs. Eva Adams and Mrs. Grace Amstutz and a piano duet by Mrs. Murphy and her daughter.

Roland McElheny, a Grange member who was in a serious farm accident recently, was reported improving at Hardin Memorial Hospital at Kenton.

Business Enjoying Best Summer Ever

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. business is enjoying its best summer ever, the Department of Commerce says.

A department report yesterday included these figures:

Steel and automobile production were at near record rates in July.

A record to any three-month period of manufactures' sales was set when such sales in June remained above the 26 billion dollar level.

Unemployment in July was the lowest for the month since World War II—1½ million persons.

However, the department also said new orders continued to fall off in June, to a level five billions below last September's peak, and inventories continued to increase.

Communist 'King' Rules With Iron Fist

Reds Bleed Romania as Much as Old Monarchy

By RICHARD O'REGAN

BUCHAREST, (AP)—The lush extravagances of former King Carol of Romania have been replaced today by those of Communist "King" Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej.

Western diplomats here say the new Communist court has bled Romania as much as the old monarchy. The lot of the city dweller has been lowered and the peasant reduced to a state serfdom comparable with the slavery of the Doyars.

But where the late King Carol fascinated his people with romantic perambulations and political conspiracies, handsome Gheorghiu-Dej lives in inhuman isolation and rules with an iron fist.

Dej's Communist courtiers live in the homes of the former aristocracy and keep themselves in splendor while Romanis long-suffering 16 million people continue in hunger.

Their homes in Chaussee Kisselef and in Jianu Park are closely guarded by armed police. Big expensive American and Russian cars take their uniformed servants to and from private stores.

While millions of "common people" daily rise at 4 a.m. to queue up for the barest rations, crates of imported oranges and eggs are unloaded in the gardens of the new Communist rich.

Only Communist bigwigs or high foreign Communist guests use the ultramodern Baneasa Railway Station, with its red carpets, which Carol built for the exclusive use of royalty.

The masses must wait if one of Romania's top Communist officials wants quick service in a department store or needs a rail ticket. We saw the people look at Communist bureaucrats receiving preferential treatment with the same hate they might have shown for royal agents.

The class distinctions of the new "classless society" are as strict for Romania's 700,000 Communist party members as they were in Victorian England.

At official receptions, Gheorghiu-Dej and his top guests are separated in private rooms and nobody may cross the line. They are served caviar and imported French brandy. The lower ranks get hors d' oeuvres and domestic tzuika.

Invited to Western receptions, the "new rich" of Romania leave their wives behind. It is said they do not know how to behave in society.

As in the 18th century, Turkish-appointed Greek governors of Romania were carried from their tables to their beds, so Geheorghiu-Dej has an escort of police thugs, who, by their number, almost lift him from place to place. All traffic stops as Dej speeds through town in a convoy of curtained black sedans.

With the growth of this new exclusive society, Western diplomats say Romania's workers in general have seen a drop in their living standards below what they were during Carol's regime. Only a few faithful Communist workers are said to have gained.

For three years, the supply of food has declined steadily. It reached its peak shortage in May and June. Westerners say there were block-long lines of housewives seeking food from dawn until night.

The bare basic ration of 250 grams of black or grey bread a day, 200 grams of meat a week and small quantities of sugar and sunflower oil for cooking were met. That was all. There was no butter and little bread off ration and only the smallest quantities of vegetables.

A few weeks before the "Fourth World Festival of Youth" brought thousands of Westerners here to see the Communist "paradise," Romania's food situation improved. White bread appeared as the regime dipped into its reserves to feed its guests lavishly and to give the appearance of plenty.

Westerners in Bucharest predicted the same chronic food shortages would reappear as soon as the festival visitors departed.

Upper Postmaster Outsmarts Swarm Of Intruding Bees

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—Postmaster Edwin S. Naus has bees in his attic—has had them there for two weeks now.

To keep the record straight, these are not political bees in his bonnet, even though he is a former mayor, a past president of the Young Republican Club of Wyandot County and was a delegate to the latest Republican National Convention in Chicago.

These bees he now has are the regular standard brand of honey bees usually found in Upper Sandusky and there is a large swarm of them in the attic of the postmaster's home. The invaders announced their presence in the house by a chorus of buzzing that carried through the two - story frame home like the sound of a power saw. A cautious inspection revealed the presence of a large group of bees busily buzzing about their business of building a comb between the attic rafters.

After careful consideration of the problem, Naus mounted a hive on the side of the house near the knothole where the worker bees were making their frequent entrances and exits, and then plugged the hole with a funnel-like fly-trap cone with the big end inside the wall.

The strategy is working. Bees find their way out through the funnel but can't find the way back. Each day brings an increase in the outside colony and a corresponding decrease in the inside group.

After the entire swarm is settled in the hive outside the wall Naus plans to remove the colony in its new home from the side of his house and lower it to the ground, a project with which he expects to need some active assistance in addition to the free advice he has received from neighbors and a majority of passersby since the start of his evacuation program.

Nightly Services End At Bible Ranchette

Nightly evangelistic services at the Brookside Bible Ranchette on Route 529 near Cardington will continue through Sunday, with Rev. Robert F. Paxton of the Presbyterian Church at Butler, Pa., as the speaker. These public services are sponsored by Emmanuel Baptist Church of Marion.

The subject tonight will be "The Way of Salvation," Thursdy, "My Hand, My Father's Hand," Friday, "The Resurrection and the Life," Saturday, "I Will Come Again," and Sunday, "Feed My Sheep." Each service is at 7:45, and special music is featured.

A special drive-in service at the ranchette has been set for Saturday, Aug. 29, when the Zeoli Rhoads Gospel Team, on television "Youth on the March" Sunday night programs, presented by Dr. Percy Crawford, will be featured. The young men composing the team and making personal appearance at the ranchette service are Billy Zeoli, evangelist, son of Rev. Anthony Zeoli, who is known as the "walking Bible," and Ross Rhoads, song leader and vocalist, a member of the Percy Crawford quartet of radio and television.

Film Distributor Gives Up Battle Against Censorship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A New York distributor today gave up a court fight against an Ohio ban on the showing of the film "The Young and the Damned."

The Ohio Supreme Court dismissed a suit against the censorship order at the request of the distributor, Arthur Mayer-Edward Kingsley, Inc.

The film censorship division of the Ohio Education Department banned the showing last March because of what it termed the film's "frequent immoral and inhuman sequences" and "acts of extreme violence and crime by a band of youthful desperados, including cold-blooded murder."

In another case the court dismissed without prejudice an appeal from an order of the state board of tax appeals denying tax exemption for Salvation Army property at 109-117 W. High St., Springfield, Ohio.

The Salvation Army sought the exemption on grounds the building was used for charitable purposes. The board denied exemption because part of the building was rented to privately operated enterprises, including Radio Station WIZE.

Wife of John Wayne Ordered To Pay Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge has given the estranged wife of actor John Wayne just 10 days to pay up a $2,082 grocery and liquor bill.

Mrs. Esperanza Wayne had testified during a two-day trial that she was unable to meet her household expenses from the $1,100 monthly that Wayne is paying her.

Municipal Judge Charles B. McCoy yesterday awarded Sales Markets, Inc., of Encino, judgement for the $2,082 plus interest from last June 17 and costs of her suit.

Mrs. Wayne's Cadillac automobile was attached over the bill recently and she came to court in her gardner's pickup truck.

More wire and cable

More new telephones

More central office equipment

Many new buildings

Still growing to serve you better

Our telephone expansion is continuing at a rapid pace. Our system of lines and central offices is bigger and better. The number of people on the waiting list for telephones is the smallest in the last six years. Much of our work is not noticeable to the eye — in telephone buildings, on back streets, overhead, underground, out in the country — but it is going on steadily everywhere.

In magneto exchanges

Good service on magneto lines is being made better by stringing more wire, placing more poles, improving switchboards, and intensive clearance of trees which might harm your line.

In common battery exchanges

Where telephone "traffic" has increased, more switchboard positions are being installed. More cable, pole line, wire and toll circuits, too, in this type of office . . . and of course, tree trimming.

In dial exchanges

Dial exchanges have to grow, too. More telephones take more dial switches, more cable, wires, poles, toll lines, toll switchboards at larger points . . . and again, tree trimming.

Nine new dial central offices so far this year

Since January, nine new dial central offices have been placed in operation — one more will be completed in August — two in September — and nine more are under way.

In this state-wide program, 1,380 employees are at work for you — 244 more than in January, 1952. Our expansion and improvement of telephone service, which will reach a four-year figure of $16,000,000 by the end of the year, is primarily financed through sale of stock and bonds.

Malted Milk Hermits Offer New Taste Thrill

Made to order for porch party, bridge refrehhment, or for cookie jar come-on is this new version of a long-time hit, hermits. Usually their nutmeat taste is combined with raisins or mincemeat; here they undergo a flavor transformation with the addition of chocolate malted milk powder.

Crunchy - crusted on the outside, delicately cake - like inside, they're the guide to social success for your late summer parties.

CHOCOLATE MALTED MILK HERMITS

Ingredients: 2-3 cup butter, ¾ cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup cocoa, 1 cup chocolate malted milk powder, ¼ cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup chopped nuts.

Method: Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with water and vanilla, beating until smooth after each addition. Fold in nuts. Drop from a teaspoon on greased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about six dozen.

Jubilee Draws 2,000 to LaRue

Talent Show, Parade Highlight Activities

Special to The Star

LARUE—Attendance, not inclusive of dogs, cats, horses, sheep, steers and donkies, totaled some 2,000 at LaRue's jubilee on the village main street Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night.

The animals, however, took top billing at the Saturday afternoon program when each young area participant beribboned and costumed his pup or kitten and paraded before the judges. Top prize went to Louise Oberdier, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Oberdier of near LaRue, who brought her pet goat. Judges for the event were Marion County Home Demonstration agent, Miss Dorothy Gorby, and Miss Evelyn Hulbert of LaRue.

Opening the program on Friday night was a square dance and a waltz contest. Dancing was held from 9 p.m. until midnight on both nights to the music of Chuck Boblenz and his orchestra.

Bathing beauties competed at the jubilee on Saturday night. The contest sponsored by the LaRue American Legion Auxilliary was won by Miss Edith Hoover with Miss Pat Wittibslager taking second place. Both girls are LaRue High School students. They were given prizes, and a corsage was presented to each. Judges were Col. Lyn Ballard, TV star, Earl Andrews of Marion and Mrs. Helen Brian of Kenton.

A talent show, with Col. Ballard and a panel of local judges scoring the contestants, followed the beauty contest. First place was won by Carl and Ronald Breece of Marion who played a trumpet duet with second place honors going to Lee Ann Sturgis of Kenton who did an Indian ceremonial dance. Third place winner was Sherry Buerger of Kenton who performed a Hula ballet. Other prizes went to Jimmy Beverly of Marion, clarinet solo, Carol Case of Shelby, baton twirling, Ronnie Robertson of Marysville, vocal solo, and Trudy Fink and Connie Althouse of Kenton, ballet. Local judges were Mrs. J. T. Berg of Marion and Sam Burbaugh of Richwood. Col. Ballard followed the talent show with a half hour program of audience participation.

Other events which kept the crowd busy included fortune telling, dart game, spook house and the fish pond. Some of the prizes at the fish pond were "live" donations from area residents who found homes for extra puppies or kittens. The LaRue Garden Club sponsored a booth where plants, bulbs and seeds were on sale.

Proceeds from the jubilee, which totaled some $800, will be used for the kindergarten project. The event, the first in a series of money - raising programs, was sponsored by the J.A.M. Club of LaRue assisted by several other organizations of the community.

County Begins License Plans For Machines

Prosecutor Carrying Out Jury's Request To Control Gambling

Complying with last Wednesday's recommendation of the Marion County grand jury that a uniform system of licensing and registering pinball machines be established in the city and county of Marion, County Prosecutor Ralph E. Carhart is gathering background information prior to preparing a proposal to submit to the county commissioners.

The jury's recommendation for uniform licensing came after three months' investigation of reported gambling activity in the county failed to produce enough evidence to return an indictment "against any person or persons."

Controlled in City

A city ordinance authorizing the licensing of coin-operated amusement devices has been in effect since Nov. 11 1948, but similar legislation does not exist outside the city limits.

With authority granted by this city ordinance, the city auditor, upon the approval of the mayor, may adopt rules and regulations concerning coin-operated amusement devices.

At the present time these laws require the owner or operator of pinball machines to apply for licenses costing one dollar per machine each year which are renewable annually. In addition, there is a tax assessed on income from pinball machines in operation in the city.

All receipts from the exhibition, use and operation of coin-operated mechanical devices, the code specifies, are to be taxed five per cent of the gross income. This tax is payable monthly at the city auditor's office by the owner of the devices.

Nets $19,000 Yearly

It would be difficult to ascertain exactly the amount of revenue added to the city's general fund from these licenses and tax, es since this money is combined with admission and amusement taxes collected by the city, but City Auditor Elmer Shaw placed the amount somewhere in the neighborhood of $19,000 yearly.

Since it was the jury's recommendation that "a uniform system" of licensing pinball machines be established in both the city and county, the county might adopt legislation similar to that existing in the city.

On the other hand, commissioners might come up with a different set of regulations and request the city to consider amending their ordinance.

At the present time, the order issued by Marion County Sheriff Glenn Obenour in May banning all pinball machines from operating in the county still holds, and is still being complied with, the sheriff's office reported today.

The Sky Survey, a comprehensive map of the heavens, shows huge slices of the great wide blue yonder out to an average distance of 4,000 billion billion miles. That would be a 4 followed by 21 zeroes.

AL Owners Approve Browns' Transfer

Coast Location Ruled Out by 4-Man Group

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Bill Veeck is home hunting today for a city and park in which his American League Brownies, presently of St. Louis, can play more profitably next season.

Veeck's presence in Los Angeles has stirred up considerable interest and some civic activity. He plans to visit San Francisco next, but said last night he doesn't know just when. He was there two weeks ago talking with officials.

"I'm just looking at various cities which have evidenced interest in having major league baseall," he said. "But you can't have major league baseball without a major league park."

Veeck's search for greener pastures has the conditional approval of the American League owners who last spring turned down his bid to move to Baltimore. He confimed reports the club presidents told him he could transfer the Browns if and when he can prove he is financially able to make the change.

But a committee of four owners made it plain that it would not approve either Los Angeles or San Francisco individually. Owners feel having only one club on the Pacific Coast would be a hardship travelwise.

Six-Hit Mound Stint Clinches Tie for Crown

Carl's Auto Parts clinched a tie for first place in the second round of the Commercial Softball League at Garfield Park Tuesday by defeating Bird-McGinnis. With one more week to go in the final round of play, only K & W are in a position to tie the league leaders.

Carl's drew a bye for next week's final games and completed the round Tuesday with a record of five wins and one loss. K & W by dumping the West Town Merchants next week could knot the second round of play with an identical record.

Sonny Taylor annexed his fifth win by limiting the Legion crew to six hits as his mates were pounding out a ten-hit attack for a 6-2 victory. H. Kennell hit a home run for the winners in the sixth inning with no one on the sacks to widen a 3-2 lead by Carl's. Carl's wrapped up the game in the final frame by scoring two runs on three hits.

K W walloped UAW-CIO 1039 by a 24-2 count in a game that went only four innings. The K & W hitters entered the fourth frame holding a 12-2 lead and proceeded to push 13 runs over the plate before the Union crew could get the side out. The winners batted around twice in the fourth, connected for six hits, received five walks and were gifted three times by errors. Jack Higgins had a home run in the inning for the winners.

Smitty's All-Stars ended the chances of a second round title by GI Post when they dumped the Legion in the final game 14-4. Smitty's jumped on Thorpe early in the game, scoring five times in the first three frames to hold a 5-1 lead after four innings. The All-Stars added five in the sixth on five hits and finished off with another four-run splurge in the seventh. The All-Stars collected a total of 11 hits while Bob McKeever, Smitty's hurler received credit for the win, allowing GI Post four runs on five hits.

Bucyrus Head Coach Accepts Sandusky Offer

BUCYRUS—Richard King, head football and basketball coach at Bucyrus High School the last two years, has accepted a position as junior high basketball coach at Sandusky, it was learned today.

King, a graduate of Ashland College, announced his resignation last spring. At that time he said he was seeking a junior high coaching post so he would have some spare time to devote to an evergreen nursery near Butler, in which he and his father are partners.

In his new post he will teach a science and mathematics class.

King came here in 1950 as head basketball coach from Mt. Gilead High School. During his three years as cage mentor, his teams won 35 of 48 games and twice tied for the Northern Ohio League championship. He began his coaching career at Butler High School and later coached two years at Fredericktown before moving to Mt. Gilead.

His successor as head football coach at Bucyrus is Richard Frantz, assistant coach for the last four seasons. The new head basketball coach is John Hutton, who coached last year at Shadyside, Ohio.

Phillies' Manager To Get New Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The mediocre showing of the faltering Philadelphia Phillies this year apparently won't cost Manager Steve O'Neill his job.

President Robert M. Carpenter Jr. of the National League club indicated today O'Neill will be offered a new contract within a few days.

While expressing dissatisfaction with the individual efforts of his players, Carpenter said O'Neill "can't be blamed for their showing."

"I haven't had an opportunity to talk with him (O'Neill) but I'm satisfied with his work," Carpenter said.

Spartans Face Grid Problem

Platoons or Not Platoons, That Is the Big Question

EAST LANSING, Mich (AP) — All college football teams should have the problems of Michigan State, the defending national champion.

The Spartans are undecided whether they'll continue to play the platoon system—using crack offensive and defensive units as such—or go in for the shock troop strategy of playing balanced teams.

"We haven't decided yet what we'll do," said line coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, formerly of Syracuse.

"We may find it's better to go ahead and use the best possible offensive team and take a chance when we lose the ball and go on defense. Or we may try to pick out our best 11 players who can go both ways and use them and then pick out our second best for relief and so forth.

"Any way you figure it you're going to have to make some sacrifice. If your offensive unit is going good you can figure on controlling the ball. But if you lose it, boom, the ball may be back up in your end of the field before you know it."

Daughterty was acting as Michigan State spokesman in an informal round-the-table discussion at the Spartan fieldhouse. The Michigan State situation is so critical the head coach, Biggie Munn, left town for a week's fishing.

The powerful Spartans will have a squad of 64 men, give and take a little, reporting for fall rehearsals next month.

They're the pick to repeat as the No. 1 team in the Asociated Press poll.

But the Spartan staff is dead set against the new restricted substitution rule.

"It's not going to help anybody," said backfield coach Steve Sebo, a Michigan State grad. They're predicting the new rule will help the little teams. Actually it's going to help the bigger squad, like us.

"And we're going to have to have more players because the two-way requirements are going to be so rigid it'll take more men from which to pick what you need.'

Korean Veteran Dies During Preliminary Ring Engagement

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Marine staff sergeant who survived three Korean battles, 24-year-old Robert L. Lee, died last night almost immediately after receiving a body blow in the first round of a preliminary fight at the Miami Beach auditorium.

Fighting under the name of Bobby Leonard of Milwaukee, the war veteran was favored over his opponent, Kenny Yates of Miami, in their four-round middleweight bout, and ringsiders were startled when he crumpled under what appeared to be only a light blow to the heart.

Lee fell back against the ropes and seemed for a moment to be gagging on his mouthpiece. Then he fell through the ropes to the ring apron and went into convulsions. He was caried hurriedly to a dressing room and pronounced dead.

Dr. S. Joseph Pearlman and Dr. Samuel Kaplan worked over him 15 minutes in a vain effort to revive him. Dr. Pearlman said he examined Lee before the fight and found him in "perfect condition."

An autopsy was scheduled for today.

Lee has been stationed at the Miami Marine Base since his return from Korea. He had fought four previous preliminary fights here but had no handlers and it was not known whether he had fought professionally before being stationed in Miami.

Yates was booked on a routine charge of involuntary manslaughter and released in custody of promoter Chris Dundee.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two grinning 17-year-old caddies earned part of their college education yesterday, and try for more today.

Lloyd Syron of Pontiac, Mich., and Franic Malara of White Plains, N. Y. each won a $125 scholarship by tying for medalist honors in the National Caddie Tournament qualifier.

Syron, son of the pro at the Pontiac Country Club, carded 72-77—149. Malara toured university course in 73-76—149.

All 61 bag-toters qualified yesterday for today's two 18-hole match-play rounds.

Yesterday's qualifying scores included:

Joe Quinn, New Lexington, 84-75—159.

Larry Snyder, Athens, 84-90—174.

Rusty Wilke, Hamilton, 83-96—179.

Joe Miller, Hamilton, 84-89—173.

Cincinnati Ace Drops Behind In Homer Race

CINCINNATI (AP)—After today's game with the second-place Milwaukee Braves, the Cincinnati Redlegs pack up their sixth-place troubles and leave Crosley Field until Sept. 9.

The troubles are plenty, as a visit to the park last night would have demonstrated. The Braves blasted two Cincinnati pitchers for an 8-2 victory.

Fred Baczewski was battered by eight hits, including a homer by Jack Dittmer, in 3 2-3 innings.

The Redleg runs were made with the aid of a walk and two errors.

Gus Bell was passed to open the fourth inning. Borkowski reached first after shortstop Johnny Logan booted the ball. Then Jim Greengrass lined a single to score Gus and to advance Bob to third.

In the sixth Ted Kluszewski reached first on another Brave error. Ted went to third when Borkowski doubled. After Logan tossed out Andy Seminick, Klu rushed across home plate and Borkowski roosted on the third sack.

Though Ted scored a run, he disappointed his fans who hoped he would overtake Ed Mathews in the National's home run race. Going into the game, Mathews led 37-36. He increased it with a sixth inning blow deep into the centerfield corner of the bleachers.

State Checker Tourney Set for Newark YMCA

Newark will be the scene of the Ohio State Checker tournament. The schedule will start Saturday, Sept. 5 and will continue through Labor Day at the Newark YMCA.

The tournament will be divided into two divisions, the Majors and Minors. Big purses go to the winner of each division. This makes it possible for the amateurs and the semi-pros to get into the money and be crowned "Champ of Ohio."

The tournament will be of three restrictions and will be governed by regulation rules. Entries should be mailed to Charles Hill at Pataskala, O.

In other games, Toledo inceased its league lead to 1½ games with an 8-3 triumph over the Indianapolis Indians, the second - place Louisville Colonels lost to Kansas City 5-4 and Lefty Tommy Byrne set the Columbus Red Birds down with six hits to post his first victory of the season for Charleston 4-2.

Archers Set Shoot Sunday, Plan Tourney

A hunting round will be held Sunday by members of the Marion Archery Club at Hickory Grove Lake, one mile west of Big Island.

About 30 archers are expected for the shoot. Anyone may enter by paying an entrance fee. The shoot will take place on a 14-target range, all animal face and obstacle shooting at unknown distances. Medals will be given for the first four places.

The Marion Archery Club is now in the process of getting its fall tournament under way. It is to be held in September. The shoot will be for live game and trophies will be given to the winners. Points are given for each legal animal killed and when a man gets a set number of points he receives a shoulder patch from the National Field Archery Association and is made a member of the Mariho Bowhunters, a local field archery organization.

Points are given according to how hard the animal is to hit and kill. Six points are given for a groundhog, one for a fish, three for a harmful hawk, and 15 for a deer, bear, mountain lion and such. Twelve of the Marion Archery Club members plan a hunting trip into Michigan the first of October. Officers of the club are Jay Alton, president; E. J. Leadenham, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Rosenberger, recorder. Anyone over 16 and interested in archery is eligible to enter the Archery Club.

Speedway Plans 200-Lap Feature Race

CECIL ADDAMS, MARION SPEEDWAY PROMOTER, and Mayor Harold Robinson (right) standing with trophy to be given to the winner of the 200-lap stock car race Sunday at the Marion Speedway. The trophy for this race, longest ever held at the speedway, stands nearly five feet high.

Mayor Harold Robinson To Present Trophy To Winner

A 200-lap feature will headline the regular Sunday racing card at the Marion Speedway.

Billed as a state championship event, the race will be open competition. It will be part of the regular card at the oval, Promoter Cecil Addams said today.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson will be at the track to present the winner with a trophy nearly five feet in height. The event will be the longest ever held at the local track.

Five other events are scheduled along with the 200 lap race including 'figure eight' and 'suicide' races.

Top drivers from over the entire state and from 75 to 100 cars are expected to be here. No cars will be barred from the track as long as they pass the regular specifications. The track will be in top shape and there will be no dust.

Some of the drivers will have new cars this Sunday and will be trying to break the track record now held by Bill Krohmer of Marion. A list of the drivers to be here Sunday will be announced later.

The Marion Speedway is located five miles north of Marion off Route 23. Time trials will start at 11:30 a.m. and the race will begin promptly at 2 p.m. The picnic grounds will be available.

Steve Gromek Nips Tribe 3-2 For Tiger Win

DETROIT (AP) — With three straight losses to clubs mired deep in the second division, Cleveland's Indians today were in their worst straits of the season.

The Tribesmen, far out of pennant contention, now are 14 games behind first place New York, six and a half behind Chicago and only a game ahead of the fourth-place Boston Red Sox.

Their 3-2 loss to the Detroit Tigers last night was particularly bitter because Steve Gromek, whom the Tribe discarded in June, whipped Mike Garcia, one of Cleveland's three mound aces.

Brown Wants No Dumb Guys On Grid Team

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Are football players simply big, tough and fast?

Not so, says Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns and winner of five professional grid championships. Above everything they have to be intelligent, too.

Each year Brown puts his rookies through an elaborate intelligence test. And without a single exception, he has found the better football players are the smarter ones.

"There was a time," he admitted, "when about all you had to know about a football player was whether he was big, tough and fast. Now you have to know whether he's smart, big, tough and fast."

The studious coach discussed some of his methods as the team prepared to leave by plane for San Francisco to open its exhibition schedule.

He places his rookies in three classes according to their intelligence tests. "The top third we know we want," he said.

"The middle third we want if they're good enough physically. The lowest third we don't want no matter what their physical qualifications may be. They'd only hurt us."

Brown said he has found that "somewhere along the line, the dumb guy will get your football team into trouble—probaly on the field, maybe off. "We found out that we can't afford to fool around with him. He makes that mistake that beats you."

And other things being equal, Brown is inclined to regard the smartest players as members of the defensive unit. He explained it this way:

"About the most an offensive mistake can cost you is a small loss of yardage or a failure to gain. A defensive mistake can cost you a touchdown and a touchdown can cost you a game."

Two players will not be along when the squad takes off for the west coast. John Natyshak, Youngstown tackle who played college football at the University of Tampa, was released yesterday and end Bob Schnelker of Bowling Green, returned briefly to the Marines for his release. He may rejoin the club in time for the second exhibition contest, with Los Angeles Aug. 28.

Armless Man Takes Part in Roaring Grand

By FRITZ HOWELL

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—One of the most unusual shooters in the 54th Grand American Trapshoot is 52-year-old Tim Sweigard of Mount Carmel, Ill.

In November 1949 Sweigard lost his right arm at the shoulder in an oil well accident.

Two and a half yeas ago he took up trapshooting and uses probaly the most unorthodox stance on the firing line. He breaks an average of 91 of every 100 targets he fires at.

He holds the gun in his left hand, places the butt on his right shoulder and twists his head to line up his sights.

His first season he averaged 75 targets for each hundred and last year boosted it to 84. His wife, Pat, said "Tim was always an active man and after the acident I thought he would go crazy with worry; but trapshooting has changed all that."

Senators Explode in 9th

Yankees Blow 8-Run Lead To Nats; Chisox Win Pair

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If winning a game already given up for lost was the spark that ignited the New York Yankees' pennant drive, will losing a game that looked like a sure victory be enough to put out the fire?

It's tough to pick one game as the starting point of a surge toward the flag. But you can make a pretty good case for the Yankees' July 25 encounter in Detroit.

That was the day the Yanks fought back from a 10-1 deficit to win 15-11 with four runs in the 12th inning.

They went on to capture 17 of their next 23 games, doubling their first-place margin over Chicago from 4½ to 9 lengths.

Then came last night. The White Sox took a couple of squeakers from the St. Louis Browns 3-2 and 2-1. The Yankees, using rookie Bill Miller, toyed with Washington and led 8-1 after six innings.

Clyde Vollmer and Mickey Vernon homered in the eighth and when Ed Fitz Gerald opened the Washington ninth with a single, cagey Casey Stengel figured it was time to bring on Allie Reynolds. Then he settled back to watch the Big Chief polish off the Senators.

Before Case could get back to the top step of the dugout Reynolds had given up four tallies and the tieing run was on third base. Stengel frantically waved in Tom Gorman, who gave up a walk and a single to Vollmer that tied the score.

Then Stengel switched to Johnny Sain. Jim Busby greeted him with a triple good for two more runs. Sain eventually retired the side but the damage totaled seven runs. The final score was 10-8 Washington.

It was the biggest ninth inning of the year against the world champions and the first time they've blown a game in which they led by seven runs.
